Clinical Neuropsychology Study Guide and Board Review Kirk Stucky, Michael Kirkwood, Jacobus Donders, Christine Liff, 2020-09-01 Clinical Neuropsychology Study Guide and Board Review Second Edition provides an easy to study volume with sample questions and recommended readings that are specifically designed to help individuals prepare for the ABCN written examination. In addition, this book can be used as a teaching tool for graduate students and trainees at various levels. The book is divided into three sections: Section I Foundations of Clinical Neuropsychology, Section II Fundamentals of Assessment, and Section III Disorders and Conditions. The format is geared toward exam preparation and is much less dense than a typical textbook. Information is provided in a concise, outlined manner with liberal use of bullets, boxes, illustrations, and tables that allow readers to easily review and integrate information into their already established knowledge base. To augment the study guide, a recommended readings list at the end of each chapter provides references to more comprehensive materials considered important or seminal in each topic area. Additionally, the book contains four 125-question mock exams designed to help readers study and prepare for the written exam. The answers to all questions are explained along with appropriate and supportive references. Features: Detailed charts and summary tables that facilitate conceptual learning; Concise coverage of pediatric, adult, and geriatric issues and conditions; Emphasis on critical teaching points relevant to current neuropsychological practice; Mock exam questions with answers and references at the end of every chapter relevant to the content; Four separate 125-question full-length mock exams with answers and references.

History Education and Historical Inquiry Bob Bain, Arthur Chapman, Alison Kitson, Tamara Shreiner, 2024-04-01 Inquiry plays a vital role in history as a discipline which constructs knowledge about the past, and it is a vital organizing principle in history education in many countries around the world. Inquiry is also much debated, however, and although it has prominent contemporary advocates around the world, it also has prominent critics in education studies. This volume in the International Review of History Education explores the role of historical inquiry in history curricula and in history classrooms and addresses a series of linked questions, including the following: What does historical inquiry mean in history classrooms? What forms does classroom-based historical inquiry take, and to what extent is it understood in differing ways in different contexts? What do we know about the affordances and constraints associated with inquiry-based learning in history? What is the evidence of the effectiveness or ineffectiveness of inquiry-based historical learning? We address these questions in the volume by presenting seventeen papers from eight different international contexts exploring historical inquiry that will be of interest both to history teachers, curriculum designers, and history education researchers: seven papers from England, three from the US, two from Sweden, and one each from Argentina, Australia, Belgium, Canada, and Singapore. The volume adds to our knowledge about teachers thinking about inquiry and teachers' inquiry practices. It adds to our knowledge about the impact and value of inquiry in developing children's historical learning. It also explores the challenges that implementing inquiry can present for history teachers and provides support for implementation and examples of successful practice

ENDORSEMENT A wonderful overview of the global story of historical inquiry Canvassing everything from finding opportunities to teach history through all levels of education through to the complexities of navigating different views on the past inside and outside of the classroom History Education and Historical Inquiry provides a practical and empowering approach for educators around the world Recommended reading for anyone who wants to feel the support of educators from around the world in strengthening the place of inquiry in complex times Marnie Hughes Warrington University of South Australia
