Libraries, Literacy, and African American Youth Sandra Hughes-Hassell, Pauletta Brown Bracy, Casey H. Rawson, 2016-10-31 This important book is a call to action for the library community to address the literacy and life outcome gaps impacting African American youth. It provides strategies that enable school and public librarians to transform their services programs and collections to be more responsive to the literacy strengths experiences and needs of African American youth. According to National Assessment of Educational Progress (NAEP) only 18 percent of African American fourth graders and 17 percent of African American eighth graders performed at or above proficiency in reading in 2013. This book draws on research from various academic fields to explore the issues surrounding African American literacy and to aid in developing culturally responsive school and library programs with the goal of helping to close the achievement gap and improve the quality of life for African American youth. The book merges the work of its three authors along with the findings of other researchers and practitioners highlighting exemplary programs such as the award winning Pearl Bailey Library Program the Maker Jawn initiative at the Free Library of Philadelphia and the Blue Ribbon Mentor Advocate writing institute in the Chapel Hill Carrboro City Schools among others. Readers will understand how these culturally responsive programs put theory and research based best practices into local action and see how to adapt them to meet the needs of their communities.

Rose Arny, 1990 Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs, 2024-06 Winner of the 2024 John Brinkerhoff Jackson Prize from American Association of Geographers The Grand Canyon of the Colorado River is an internationally known feature of the North American landscape attracting more than five million visitors each year. A deep cultural visual and social history has shaped the Grand Canyon's environment into one of America's most significant representations of nature. Yet the canyon is more than a vacation destination a movie backdrop or a scenic viewpoint it is a real place as well as an abstraction easily summoned in the minds of Americans. The Grand Canyon or the idea of it is woven into the fabric of American cultural identity and serves as a cultural reference point an icon. In Framing Nature Yolonda Youngs traces the idea of the Grand Canyon as an icon and the ways people came to know it through popular imagery and visual media. She analyzes and interprets more than fourteen hundred visual artifacts including postcards maps magazine illustrations and photographs of the Grand Canyon supplemented with the words and ideas of writers artists explorers and other media makers from 1869 to 2022. Youngs considers the manipulation and commodification of visual representations and shifting ideas values and meanings of nature exploring the interplay between humans and their environments and how visual representations shape popular ideas and meanings about national parks and the American West Framing Nature provides a novel interpretation of how places especially national parks are transformed into national and environmental symbols
