Ourselves And The Pacific:

Ourselves and the Pacific Raymond Maxwell Crawford,1943
Crawford,1952 Do I Make Myself Clear? Harold Evans,2017-05-16 Harold Evans has edited everything from the urgent files of battlefield reporters to the complex thought processes of Henry Kissinger and he has been knighted for his services to journalism In Do I Make Myself Clear his definitive guide to writing well Evans brings his indispensable insight to the art of clear communication The right words are oxygen to our ideas but the digital era with all of its TTYL LMK and WTF has been cutting off that oxygen flow The compulsion to be precise has vanished from our culture and in writing of all kinds we see a trend towards more more speed and more information but far less clarity Evans provides practical examples of how editing and rewriting can make for better communication even in the digital age Do I Make Myself Clear is an essential text and one that will provide every reader an editor at their shoulder Imperial Visions Mark Bassin,1999-06-24 In the middle of the nineteenth century the Russian empire made a dramatic advance on the Pacific by annexing the vast regions of the Amur and Ussuri rivers Although this remote realm was a virtual terra incognita for the Russian educated public the acquisition of an Asian Mississippi attracted great attention nonetheless even stirring the dreams of Russia s most outstanding visionaries Within a decade of its acquisition however the dreams were gone and the Amur region largely abandoned and forgotten In an innovative examination of Russia s perceptions of the new territories in the Far East Mark Bassin sets the Amur enigma squarely in the context of the Zeitgeist in Russia at the time Imperial Visions demonstrates the fundamental importance of geographical imagination in the mentalit of imperial Russia This 1999 work offers a truly novel perspective on the complex and ambivalent ideological relationship between Russian nationalism geographical identity and imperial expansion The Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review ,1853 Hunt's Merchants' Magazine and Commercial Review Freeman Hunt,Thomas Prentice Kettell,William Buck Dana,1853 Hearings Before and Special Reports Made by Committee on Armed Services of the House of Representatives on Subjects Affecting the Naval and Military Establishments ,1974 The Gateway to the Pacific Meredith Oda,2019-01-03 In the decades following World War II municipal leaders and ordinary citizens embraced San Francisco s identity as the Gateway to the Pacific using it to reimagine and rebuild the city The city became a cosmopolitan center on account of its newfound celebration of its Japanese and other Asian American residents its economy linked with Asia and its favorable location for transpacific partnerships The most conspicuous testament to San Francisco s postwar transpacific connections is the Japanese Cultural and Trade Center in the city s redeveloped Japanese American enclave Focusing on the development of the Center Meredith Oda shows how this multilayered story was embedded within a larger story of the changing institutions and ideas that were shaping the city During these formative decades Oda argues San Francisco s relations with and ideas about Japan were being forged within the intimate local sites of civic and community life This shift took many forms including changes in city leadership new municipal institutions and especially transformations in the built environment Newly friendly relations between Japan and the United States also meant that Japanese Americans found fresh if highly constrained job and community prospects just as the city's African Americans struggled against rising barriers San Francisco's story is an inherently local one but it also a broader story of a city collectively if not cooperatively reimagining its place in a global economy
