

OUTCAST

A detailed illustration of a futuristic spaceship, possibly a space station or a large probe, with a complex, modular design. It has a long central section with various antennas and sensors. The ship is positioned diagonally across the frame, flying over a large, reddish-orange planet with a highly textured, cratered surface. A bright, glowing sun or star is visible on the left side, casting a strong light and creating a lens flare effect. The background is a dark, starry space with some nebulae and distant galaxies.
