These questions help you stay on track with the plot as well as build your reading comprehension.

Directions: Answer these questions on a separate piece of paper as you read.

Act One

1. Why is Reverend Parris praying at the beginning of Act One? Might he have more than one reason?
2. What did Reverend Parris do before coming to Salem?
3. Who is Tituba?
4. What is the relationship between Abigail and Reverend Parris? Why does she live with him?
5. What rumors are circulating in the village?
6. Describe what Reverend Parris encountered in the woods. Why would this be an especially upsetting sight for a Puritan minister?
7. What happened to Abigail seven months before Act One?
8. What reason does Abigail give for being dismissed from the Proctor residence?
9. What similarity exists between Ruth Putnam and Betty Parris? What difference do the Putnams notice?
10. What tragedy occurred in Mrs. Putnam's life?
11. Why did Mrs. Putnam contact Tituba?
12. In what way does Abigail's behavior change when she is alone with the girls? What does this reveal about her character?
13. In what way does Abigail's behavior change when she is alone with Proctor? What do we learn about Abigail and Proctor in this scene?
14. Who is Rebecca Nurse? What effect does her presence have on Betty?
15. How does Mrs. Putnam feel about Rebecca? Why?
16. Who is Giles Corey? How does John Proctor seem to feel about Giles?

Better Managers Do Better Business ORRIE BARAGWANATH,2013-02-21 For the past thirty years I have been lecturing groups and doing productivity consulting for a number of very different factories businesses and agricultural enterprises I have identified those factors which make management effective and have categorized the types of managers and the stumbling blocks to effective management by each of the types In discussion with my son who has his masters degree in business management and he asked me to put my experiences and theories on paper and to do it in the same manner I use when give seminars on the subject In my lectures I illustrate the positive factors and the stumbling blocks by giving down to earth examples from my experiences but at the same time illustrating constantly that the principles of effective management are common to all managers at whatever level of management from the MD running an airline to the farmer planting tomatoes or the janitor getting the cleaning lady to sweep the passage or the mother attempting to control her philistines in the supermarket I have given an explanation of where and how adults learn their management skills and have defined the four basic management types which are in my experience most common My categories and definitions of the types are original and play a fundamental role in the effectiveness of participative management They also have an elementary function in building self esteem and pride which is cardinal in assisting all levels of management to motivate subordinates and delegate responsibility Motivation and delegation being the two most common factors where so many managers lack the fundamentals to be great managers of large companies instead of small time operators with many regrets The categories I have defined are easily identifiable African history is littered with the worst types of managers and those of Europe and Latin America stand out like sore thumbs And the reason is that they never learnt how to motivate or delegate properly Autocrats have to be tyrannical and greedy because they do not have the management skills to be admired and venerated in their own rite Their recognition comes from elsewhere It has to be so It is a given All tyrants began as well liked and respected people but end up as psychopaths Accompanying effective management of the individual is the limitation of one s management style in delegation the primary limiting factor in management and the core malady in administration at all levels Effective delegation requires a structured step by step adherence to principles of esteem building checking selection and training Anything less is doomed to failure and ineffectiveness The Continual Improvement Process Craig Cochran,2003 Continual improvement is not optional It is a condition of survival Every organization must have systematic methods for making smart decisions attacking problems improving its products and services and repelling competitors Anything less than a systematic disciplined approach is leaving your future in the hands of chance This book presents a range of practical methods for driving continual improvement throughout the organization The starting point is leadership with a clear definition of mission strategy and key measures These themes are then carried throughout the enterprise informing everyone on the issues that matter most to survival and success Strategic approaches for the deployment of metrics review of organizational performance effective problem solving internal auditing process orientation and cultural development are also described in detail Practical tools and examples are provided at every step of the way enabling immediate implementation of the concepts This book is more than a guide to continual improvement it is a guide to leading and managing any organization The Tao of Alibaba Brian A Wong,2022-11-01 From a long time Alibaba executive and former special assistant to Jack Ma this is the first book to articulate how Alibaba s unique culture and tai chi management principles are providing a business and economic development model for the rest of the world If you took the economic might of Amazon and added the penetration of Facebook the ubiquity of Google and the cultural significance of YouTube you might have something starting to resemble Alibaba Commonly mischaracterized as a kind of Chinese eBay for businesses Alibaba and its interlinked network of products and services have exploded into global markets disrupting conventional businesses and creating previously unimaginable opportunities for millions of small businesses worldwide This book reveals the Tao of Alibaba the company s secret sauce a consciously cultivated ethos and spirit that has enabled Alibaba to weather tough times and setbacks and persist toward a common mission It is a blueprint of the company s management philosophy crystalized into the most important elements that have driven its success and it provides a road map for how to incorporate these principles into any organization s operations Wong distills his nearly two decades of experience inside the company to show readers how to align their organization s capabilities with performance maximizing tools in order to achieve success But most importantly the Tao of Alibaba teaches the pursuit of greater purpose and meaning steering entrepreneurs to view their ventures as a vehicle for having profound and lasting impacts on their communities Ultimately the lessons shared in The Tao of Alibaba will serve as timeless tools for any entrepreneur seeking to configure their organization toward purpose and impact Leading Without Command Joe Mutizwa,2015-03-10 Leading Without Command offers practicing and aspiring leaders in business and other disciplines a new way to lead in a world defined by volatility uncertainty complexity and ambiguity The compelling argument in this book is that leading through command control and deployment of raw positional power can no longer guarantee superior organizational performance on a sustainable basis A new leadership model based on a humane perspective anchored on people centred principles and supported by a set of appropriate skills and behaviours is put forward This book is essential reading for anyone in a position of authority or influence over people and for anyone who needs to come to terms with the demands of a globally integrated and hypercompetitive world driven by digital technology knowledge and the redistribution of power from leaders to followers in organizations nations and societies Across the Board ,1995 Princeton Alumni Weekly ,1997 Preparing for the Future - A Vision of West Africa in the Year 2020 West Africa Long-Term Perspective Study OECD,Sahel and West Africa Club,1999-12-06 Between 1960 and 2020 the population of West Africa will have increased fivefold even with the most optimistic assumptions of increased contraceptive use This unprecedented demographic explosion is accompanied by another major change Exposure to AQA Geography A Level & AS: Human
