Communicating COVID-19 Effectively in Malaysia Serina Rahman, 2022-01-24 Malaysia was initially lauded for its ability to combat the first few waves of COVID 19 but infection spikes since the Sabah state elections in September 2020 and subsequent exponential increases in both infections and deaths in 2021 left the nation reeling Nationwide vaccination is seen as the only way out of the pandemic Malaysia's COVID 19 communication strategy was hampered by political machinations and myriad changes in government The need to shore up favour among the electorate resulted in inconsistent messaging and regular U turns whenever there was public outrage at arbitrary restrictions This resulted in confusion on the ground preventing successful COVID 19 management and containment Under the current regime claims to more accessible data have been disputed and doubts have surfaced over data transparency and accuracy There is an urgent need to ensure convincingly reliable information as well as to use more engaging messaging on more suitable media A holistic and effective COVID 19 communication strategy should adopt principles from several communication approaches resulting in messages that are clear simple and accessible as well as consistent and credible Audiences should be segmented so that messages can be better tailored to their needs with adequate information on the necessary steps to prevent infection and spread Fake news misinformation and disinformation should be constantly tackled and debunked The Gerai OA and OA Lindungi Komuniti Facebook pages are outstanding examples of grassroots information dissemination channels that effectively provide fact checked coherent and accessible information to local communities in languages and on media best suited to their audiences

Darwin's Medicine Brian D. Smith, 2016-10-14 Darwin's Medicine is the sequel to Brian D Smith's influential and critically acclaimed Future of Pharma Gower 2011 Whereas the earlier book predicted the evolution of the pharmaceutical market and the business models of pharmaceutical companies Darwin's Medicine goes much deeper into the drivers of industry change and how leading pharmaceutical and medical technology companies are adapting their strategies structures and capabilities in practice Through the lens of evolutionary science Professor Smith explores the speciation of new business models in the Life Sciences Industry This sophisticated and highly original approach offers insights into The mechanisms of evolution in this exceptional industry The six great technological and social shifts that are shaping its landscape The emergence of 26 distinct new business models and The lessons that enable firms to direct and accelerate their own evolution These insights map out the industry's complex changing landscape and provide an invaluable guide to those firms seeking to survive and thrive in this dynamic market The book is essential reading for anyone working in or studying the pharmaceutical medical technology and related sectors It provides a unique and novel way of making sense of the transformation we can see going on around us and a practical focused approach to managing a firm's evolutionary trajectory

To Those Who Have Confused You to Be a Person Alia Dastagir, 2025-02-25 An urgently needed reckoning with the harm harassment and abuse women face on the Internet complicating how we think about violence online and featuring deep reporting on how women are surviving the trauma by an award winning reporter When Alia Dastagir published a story for USA Today as part of an investigation into child sexual abuse she became the tar get of an online mob launched by QAnon and encouraged by Donald Trump Jr While female journalists politicians academ ics and influencers receive a disproportionate amount of online attacks because of the nature of their professions all women online experience hate creating profound harms for individual women and society In To Those Who Have Confused You to Be a Person Dastagir uses critical analysis from psychologists sociologists neuroscientists technologists and philosophers to offer a uniquely deep and intimate look at what women experience during online abuse as well as how they cope and make meaning out of violence Dastagir weaves together her story with those of thirteen other women including a comedian who uses feminist humor to subvert her harassment and an ob gyn who channels anger over her abuse to fight attacks on reproductive rights Dastagir explores why language online cannot be ignored how it damages bodies when it triggers and traumatizes and why women s responses are so varied Dastagir analyzes why online abuse is perpetrated by people across the ideological spectrum and how it intersects with the dangers of disinformation She argues that while online abuse is often framed exclusively as a problem of misogyny it is also connected to a culture of white supremacy and the systems with which it intertwines To Those Who Have Confused You to Be a Person is the book on online abuse for this cultural moment when being online is a daily necessity for so many even as we grow ever more polarized Systemic solutions are key to combating violence online but the narrative of reform does not help women today This nuanced examination of what it means to effectively cope will empower women to raise their voices against the forces bent on silencing them

Context: Development, Mechanisms, Remediation Simon Surguladze, Dessa Bergen-Cico, 2020-07-17 The Role of Environmental Stressors in Neurocritical Patient Outcomes Luis Rafael Moscote-Salazar, Vishal K. Chavda, Tariq Janjua, 2025-10-30

In recent years there has been increasing concern about the impact of climate change on neurological health and the field of neurocritical care. Neurocritical care is a specialized area of medicine that focuses on the management of critically ill patients with neurological injuries or illnesses. The effects of climate change such as extreme weather events, air pollution, and infectious diseases can exacerbate neurological conditions and complicate the care of these patients. In this Research Topic, we will explore the intersection of neurocritical care and climate change, highlighting the challenges faced by healthcare professionals in this field and the potential solutions to mitigate the effects of climate change on neurological health. We will feature articles from leading experts in the field, showcasing the latest research on the impacts of climate change on neurocritical care and sharing innovative approaches to address these challenges. The goals for this special edition on Neurocritical Care and Climate Change are:

- To raise awareness about the impact of climate change on neurological health and the field of neurocritical care. By highlighting the challenges faced by healthcare professionals and patients, we hope to increase understanding of the urgent need to address climate change.
- To showcase the latest research on the impacts of climate change on neurocritical care. We will feature articles from leading experts in the field presenting the latest findings on the effects of extreme weather events, air pollution, and infectious diseases on neurological health.
- To share innovative approaches to mitigate the effects of climate change on neurocritical care. We will feature articles on novel solutions such as new technologies for monitoring and treating patients and strategies for adapting to a changing climate.
- To inspire action. By providing insights into the critical issue, the scope of the Research Topic for a Neurocritical Care and Climate Change special edition will include the following themes: The impact of extreme weather events on neurological health and neurocritical care; The effects of heatwaves, hurricanes, floods, and wildfires on neurological conditions and the challenges they pose for neurocritical care physicians; Air pollution and neurological health; The negative effects of air pollution on respiratory and cardiovascular health, as well as the link between air pollution and neurological conditions such as stroke, dementia, and Parkinson's disease; Infectious diseases and neurocritical care; The impact of infectious diseases, including those that are climate sensitive, on neurological health and neurocritical care; Innovative solutions for neurocritical care in a changing climate; New technologies, strategies, and policies to adapt neurocritical care to a changing climate and mitigate its impacts on neurological health.

The types of manuscripts that we are interested in include original research articles, review articles, case reports, commentaries, and perspectives. We welcome contributions from researchers, clinicians, policymakers, and other experts in the field. Manuscripts should be evidence-based, informative, and provide insights into the intersection of neurocritical care and climate change. We encourage interdisciplinary collaboration and innovative thinking to address the complex challenges at the nexus of neurocritical care and climate change Composites in Biomedical Applications S. M. Sapuan,Y. Nukman,N.A. Abu Osman,R.A.
