Nora Webster A Novel:

Nora Webster Colm Tóibín, 2014-10-02 Shortlisted for the 2014 Costa Novel Awards and the 2015 Folio Prize Nora Webster is the heartbreaking new novel from one of the greatest novelists writing today It is the late 1960s in Ireland Nora Webster is living in a small town looking after her four children trying to rebuild her life after the death of her husband She is fiercely intelligent at times difficult and impatient at times kind but she is trapped by her circumstances and waiting for any chance which will lift her beyond them Slowly through the gift of music and the power of friendship she finds a glimmer of hope and a way of starting again As the dynamic of the family changes she seems both fiercely self possessed but also a figure of great moral ambiguity making her one of the most memorable heroines in contemporary fiction The portrait that is painted in the years that follow is harrowing piercingly insightful always tender and deeply true Colm Tóibín's Nora is a character as resonant as Anna Karenina or Madame Bovary and Nora Webster is a novel that illuminates our own lives in a way that is rare in literature Its humanity and compassion forge an unforgettable reading experience A profoundly gifted world writer Sebastian Barry Nora Webster, 2015 Nora Webster Colm Tóibín, 2016 Trauma and Recovery in the Twenty-First-Century Irish Novel Kathleen Costello-Sullivan, 2018-05-07 The desire to engage and confront traumatic subjects was a facet of Irish literature for much of the twentieth century Yet just as Irish society has adopted a more direct and open approach to the past so too have Irish authors evolved in their response to and literary uses of trauma In Trauma and Recovery in the Twenty First Century Irish Novel Costello Sullivan considers the ways in which the Irish canon not only represents an ongoing awareness of trauma as a literary and cultural force but also how this representation has shifted since the end of the twentieth and beginning of the twenty first century While earlier trauma narratives center predominantly on the role of silence and the individual and or societal suffering that traumas induce twenty first century Irish narratives increasingly turn from just the recognition of traumatic experiences toward exploring and representing the process of healing and recovery both structurally and narratively Through a series of keenly observed close readings Costello Sullivan explores the work of Colm Tóibín John Banville Anne Enright Emma Donohue Colum McCann and Sebastian Barry In highlighting the power of narrative to amend and address memory and trauma Costello Sullivan argues that these works reflect a movement beyond merely representing trauma toward also representing the possibility of recovery from it

Discrepant Solace David James, 2019-05-23 Consolation has always played an uncomfortable part in the literary history of loss But in recent decades its affective meanings and ethical implications have been recast by narratives that appear at first sight to foil solace altogether Illuminating this striking archive Discrepant Solace considers writers who engage with consolation not as an aesthetic salve but as an enduring problematic one that unravels at the centre of emotionally challenging works of late twentieth and twenty first century fiction and life writing The book understands solace as a generative yet conflicted aspect of style where microelements of diction rhythm and syntax capture consolation's alternating desirability and contestation With a wide angle lens on the contemporary scene David James examines writers who are rarely considered in conversation including Sonali Deraniyagala Colson Whitehead Cormac McCarthy W G Sebald Doris Lessing Joan Didion J M Coetzee Marilynne Robinson Julian Barnes Helen Macdonald Ian McEwan Colm Tóibín Kazuo Ishiguro Denise Riley and David Grossman These figures overturn critical suppositions about consolation's kinship with ideological complaisance superficial mitigation or dubious distraction producing unsettling perceptions of solace that shape the formal and political contours of their writing Through intimate readings of novels and memoirs that explore seemingly indescribable experiences of grief trauma remorse and dread James demonstrates how they turn consolation into a condition of expressional possibility without ever promising us relief He also supplies vital traction to current conversations about the stakes of thinking with contemporary writing to scrutinize affirmative structures of feeling revealing unexpected common ground between the operations of literary consolation and the urgencies of cultural critique

Discrepant Solace makes the close reading of emotion crucial to understanding the work literature does in our precarious present

The Fictions of Dreams Otto M. Rheinschmiedt, 2018-03-29 This book examines some of the oldest preserved texts on dreams such as Artemidorus Oneirocritica Sigmund Freud's favourite ancient dream theorist and dream books by Aristotle the grandfather of modern dream theory

Conner,Julie Grossman,R. Barton Palmer,2022-09-16 In this book each chapter explores significant Irish texts in their literary cultural and historical contexts With an introduction that establishes the multiple critical contexts for Irish cinema literature and their adaptive textual worlds the volume addresses some of the most popular and important late 20th Century and 21st Century works that have had an impact on the Irish and global cinema and literary landscape A remarkable series of acclaimed and profitable domestic productions during the past three decades has accompanied while chronicling Ireland s struggle with self identity national consciousness and cultural expression such that the story of contemporary Irish cinema is in many ways the story of the young nation s growth pains and travails Whereas Irish literature had long stood as the nation s foremost artistic achievement it is not too much to say that film now rivals literature as Ireland s key form of cultural expression The proliferation of successful screen versionings of Irish fiction and drama shows how intimately the contemporary Irish cinema is tied to the project of both understanding and complicating even denying a national identity that has undergone radical change during the past three decades This present volume is the first to present a collective accounting of that productive synergy which has seen so much of contemporary Irish literature transferred to the screen
