

NORTHWEST ANGLE

The background of the book cover is a photograph of a dark, forested island in the middle of a body of water at night. A bright, glowing light source, possibly the moon or a distant light, is visible in the dark, cloudy sky above the island. The overall color palette is dominated by dark blues, greys, and a bright, hazy light from the sky.

Ochonicky, 2021-12-22 A critical overview of the evolution contestation and fragmentation of the Midwest's symbolic and often contradictory meanings in American culture How do works from film and literature Sister Carrie Native Son Meet Me in St Louis Halloween and A History of Violence for example imagine reify and reproduce Midwestern identity And what are the repercussions of such regional narratives and images circulating in American culture In The American Midwest in Film and Literature Nostalgia Violence and Regionalism Adam R Ochonicky provides a critical overview of the evolution contestation and fragmentation of the Midwest's symbolic and often contradictory meanings Using the frontier writings of Frederick Jackson Turner as a starting point this book establishes a succession of Midwestern filmic and literary texts stretching from the late 19th century through the beginning of the 21st century and argues that the manifold properties of nostalgia have continually transformed popular understandings and ideological uses of the Midwest's place identity Ochonicky identifies three primary modes of nostalgia at play across a set of textual objects the projection of nostalgia onto physical landscapes and into the cultural sphere nostalgic spatiality nostalgia as a cultural force that regulates behaviors identities and appearances nostalgic violence and the progressive potential of nostalgia to generate an acknowledgment and possible rectification of ways in which the flawed past negatively affects the present nostalgic atonement While developing these new conceptions of nostalgia Ochonicky reveals how an under examined area of regional study has received critical attention throughout the histories of American film and literature as well as in related materials and discourses From the closing of the Western frontier to the polarized political and cultural climate of the 21st century this book demonstrates how film and literature have been and continue to be vital forums for illuminating the complex interplay of regionalism and nostalgia Ochonicky presents an important reading of how nostalgia shapes the Midwest in the American imagination as a place of identity and violence Past and present slip in this compelling and well researched approach to the workings of contemporary culture Vera Dika author of Recycled Culture in Contemporary Art and Film The Use of Nostalgia By centering the concept of region Adam Ochonicky provides an insightful and refreshing reading of American popular culture In texts ranging from Richard Wright's Native Son to John Carpenter's Halloween Ochonicky demonstrates the complex terrain of the Midwest in our cultural imaginary and the diverse memories and meanings we project upon it Kendall R Phillips author of A Place of Darkness The Rhetoric of Horror in Early American Cinema Syracuse University

Towns in Recent American Crime Fiction David Geherin,2014-11-19 Small towns have long been a commonplace setting in cozy mysteries but in recent years writers of realistic crime fiction have discovered fresh possibilities in small town settings There they can take advantage of distinct facets of small town life a sense of community slower pace of life proximity to nature and yet deal with social economic and environmental issues Because crimes in small communities hit closer to home the human element can better be emphasized This book focuses on the work of ten contemporary authors who have placed small towns like Rocksborg Pennsylvania K C Constantine West Table Missouri Daniel Woodrell Niniltna Alaska Dana Stabenow Aurora Minnesota William Kent Krueger Paradise Michigan Steve Hamilton Millersburg Ohio P L Gaus Heartsdale Georgia Karin Slaughter Millers Kill New York Julia Spencer Fleming Durant Wyoming Craig Johnson and a number of national parks Nevada Barr on the map of American crime fiction The Covert Sphere Timothy Melley,2012-10-23 In December 2010 the U S Embassy in Kabul acknowledged that it was providing major funding for thirteen episodes of Eagle Four a new Afghani television melodrama based loosely on the blockbuster U S series 24 According to an embassy spokesperson Eagle Four was part of a strategy aimed at transforming public suspicion of security forces into something like awed respect Why would a wartime government spend valuable resources on a melodrama of covert operations The answer according to Timothy Melley is not simply that fiction has real political effects but that since the Cold War fiction has become integral to the growth of national security as a concept and a transformation of democracy In The Covert Sphere Melley links this cultural shift to the birth of the national security state in 1947 As the United States developed a vast infrastructure of clandestine organizations it shielded policy from the public sphere and gave rise to a new cultural imaginary the covert sphere One of the surprising consequences of state secrecy is that citizens must rely substantially on fiction to know or imagine their nation s foreign policy The potent combination of institutional secrecy and public fascination with the secret work of the state was instrumental in fostering the culture of suspicion and uncertainty that has plagued American society ever since and Melley argues that would eventually find its fullest expression in postmodernism. The Covert Sphere traces these consequences from the Korean War through the War on Terror, examining how a regime of psychological operations and covert action has made the conflation of reality and fiction a central feature of both U.S. foreign policy and American culture. Melley interweaves Cold War history with political theory and original readings of films, television dramas, and popular entertainments from The Manchurian Candidate through 24 as well as influential writing by Margaret Atwood, Robert Coover, Don DeLillo, Joan Didion, E.L. Doctorow, Michael Herr, Denis Johnson, Norman Mailer, Tim O'Brien, and many others.
