Old Age and Agency Emmanuelle Tulle, 2004 This book is about rethinking the ways in which we make sense of social action or agency in later life The contributions in this collection challenge traditional academic approaches to the study of later life which arguably often deny older people agency Social gerontology and the wider society should be more reflexive and rather than contribute to the continued marginalisation of older people should draw attention to the extent to which the latter's actions may be understood within the set of normalising discourses which people have to manage and negotiate as they get old The purpose of this collection is to continue this process by providing philosophical theoretical conceptual and empirical direction for a reflexive social gerontology This book argues that the management of later life has become complex caught as it is within a broad discourse which continues to construct old age as a time of decline and dependency but has shifted the burden of responsibility for the avoidance of decline on individuals Interdisciplinary Perspectives on Aging in

Nineteenth-Century Culture Anne-Julia Zwierlein, Katharina Boehm, Anna Farkas, 2013-08-15 This essay collection develops new perspectives on constructions of old age in literary legal scientific and periodical cultures of the nineteenth century Rigorously interdisciplinary the book places leading researchers of old age in nineteenth century literature in dialogue with experts from the fields of cultural legal and social history It revisits the origins of many modern debates about aging in the nineteenth century a period that saw the emergence of cultural and scientific frameworks for the understanding of old age that continue to be influential today The contributors provide fresh readings of canonical texts by Charles Dickens Elizabeth Gaskell Anthony Trollope Thomas Hardy Henry James and others The volume builds momentum in the burgeoning field of aging studies It argues that the study of old age in the nineteenth century has entered a new and distinctly interdisciplinary phase that is characterized by a set of research interests that are currently shared across a range of disciplines and that explore conceptions of old age in the nineteenth century by privileging respectively questions of agency of place of gender and sexuality and of narrative and aesthetic form Federal Publications on Aging, Selected Reports by Federal
