Jensen begins by busting the myth that universities are supportive writing environments. She points out that academia an arena dedicated to scholarship offers pressures that actually prevent scholarly writing. She shows how to acknowledge these less than ideal conditions and how to keep these circumstances from draining writing time and energy. Jensen introduces tools and techniques that encourage frequent low stress writing. She points out common ways writers stall and offers workarounds that maintain productivity. Her focus is not on content but on how to overcome whatever stands in the way of academic writing. Write No Matter What draws on popular and scholarly insights into the writing process and stems from Jensen's experience designing and directing a faculty writing program. With more than three decades as an academic writer, Jensen knows what really helps and hinders the scholarly writing process for scholars in the humanities, social sciences, and sciences. Cut down the academic sword of Damocles. Jensen advises: Learn how to write often and effectively without pressure or shame. With her encouragement, writers of all levels will find ways to create the writing support they need and deserve.

Simon Schuster has a great book for every reader. Write More, Publish More, Stress Less! Dannelle D. Stevens, 2023-07-03. 2021 Textbook Excellence Award Winner. College Humanities Education and Social Sciences. In this book, Dr. Dannelle D. Stevens offers five key principles that will bolster your knowledge of academic writing, enable you to develop a manageable, sustainable, and even enjoyable writing practice, and in the process, effectively increase your publication output and promote your academic career. A successful and productive book and journal article author, writing coach, creator of a nationally recognized cross-disciplinary faculty writing program, and with a long career as a faculty member and experience as a department chair, Dr. Stevens offers a unique combination of motivation, reflective practices, analytical tools, templates, and advice to set you on the path to being a productive and creative writer. Drawing on her experience as a writer and on her extensive research into the psychology of writing and the craft of scholarly writing, Dr. Stevens starts from the premise that most faculty have never been taught to write and that writers, both experienced and novice, frequently experience anxiety and self-doubt that erode confidence. She begins by guiding readers to understand themselves as writers and discover what has impeded or stimulated them in the past to establish positive new attitudes and sustainable habits. Dr. Stevens provides strategies for setting doable goals, organizing a more productive writing life, and demonstrates the benefits of writing groups, including offering a variety of ways in which you can experiment with collaborative practice. In addition, she offers a series of reflections, exercises, and activities to spark your writing fluency and creativity. Whether developing journal articles, book chapters, book proposals, book reviews, or conference proposals, this book will help you demystify the hidden structures and common patterns in academic writing and help you match your manuscript to the language structures and conventions of your discipline, be it in the sciences, social sciences, or humanities. Most importantly, believing that connecting your passions with your work is essential to stimulating your ideas and enthusiasm, this
