National Library of Medicine Programs and Services National Library of Medicine (U.S.),

Designing the Olympics Jilly Traganou,2016-04-14 Designing the Olympics claims that the Olympic Games provide opportunities to reflect on the relationship between design national identity and citizenship The Olympic design milieu fans out from the construction of the Olympic city and the creation of emblems mascots and ceremonies to the consumption interpretation and appropriation of Olympic artifacts from their conception to their afterlife Besides products that try to achieve consensus and induce civic pride the Olympic design milieu also includes processes that oppose the Olympics and their enforcement The book examines the graphic design program for Tokyo 1964 architecture and urban plans for Athens 2004 brand design for London 2012 and practices of subversive appropriation and sociotechnical action in counter Olympic movements since the 1960s It explores how the Olympics shape the physical legal and emotional contours of a host nation and its position in the world how the Games are contested by a broader social spectrum within and beyond the nation and how throughout these encounters design plays a crucial role Recognizing the presence of multiple actors the book investigates the potential of design in promoting equitable political participation in the Olympic context

Advertising, the Media and Globalisation

John Sinclair, 2012 This book offers a critical empirically grounded and contemporary account of how advertisers and agencies are dealing with a volatile mediascape throughout the world taking a region by region approach It provides a clear systematic and synoptic analysis of the dynamic relationship between media advertisers and agencies in the age of globalization and in an era of transition from mass to social media Advertising attracts much public criticism for the commercialization of culture and its apparent impact on social and personal life This book outlines and assesses the issues involved with regard to how they are manifested in different national regional and global contexts Topics covered include advertising as an object of study global trends in the advertising industry advertising and the media in motion current issues in advertising media and society advertising globalization and world regions While maintaining a contemporary focus the book explains developments over recent decades as background to the globalization of what it calls the manufacturing marketing media complex
