Traditions populaires de Provence: Les fêtes et les croyances Claude Seignolle,1996 Streven ,1955

Towards Good Lighting for the Stage Marcus Doshi,2022-12-27 Towards Good Lighting for the Stage Aesthetic Theory for Theatrical Lighting Design explores the theoretical underpinnings of effective lighting design from conceptualization to live performance Through an investigation of the author s own aesthetic point of view grounded in a broad investigation of art and design that blends pop culture and fine art theory and practice this book documents the author s thinking on the design process to fill the unexplored gap between an aesthetic philosophy and its expression in composition Redefinitions of the artist artwork and spectator link beauty and artistic efficacy to arrive at a set of principles for assessment that demand that contemporary lighting design surpass utilitarian visibility to become a vital part of the total artwork that is a theatrical production Inspired by the movements of the broader art and design worlds of the mid 19th century through present day citing influences as diverse as Jennifer Tipton Lois Tyson Dieter Rams and Dave Hickey this book charts a course from the artistic team s dramaturgical work to a solo studio concept to the tech table Engaging and wide ranging Towards Good Lighting for the Stage synthesizes years of cross disciplinary research and case studies of the author s own work into provocative reading for practitioners of lighting design advanced students and academics as well as those interested in connecting theatrical practice aesthetic theory and visual art Let's Go: Europe ,2002 Africa Film & TV ,2005 French Romance of the Later Middle Ages Rosalind Brown-Grant,2008-11-13 Whilst French romances of the twelfth and thirteenth centuries have long enjoyed a privileged place in the literary history of France romances from the later middle ages have been largely neglected by modern scholars despite their central role in the chivalric culture of the day In particular although this genre has been seen as providing a forum within which ideas about masculine and feminine roles were debated and prescribed little work has been done on the gender ideology of texts from the fourteenth and fifteenth centuries This study seeks to fill this gap in the scholarship by analysing how the views of gender found in earlier romances were reassessed and reshaped in the texts produced in the moralising intellectual environment of the later medieval period In order to explore these topics this book discusses fifteen historico realist prose romances written in the century from 1390 many of which were commissioned at the court of Burgundy It addresses key issues in recent studies of gender in medieval culture including the construction of chivalric masculinity the representation of adolescent desire and the social and sexual roles of husbands and wives In addition to offering close readings of these texts it shows how the romances of the period were informed by ideas about gender which circulated in contemporary works such as manuals of chivalry moral treatises and marriage sermons It thus aims not only to provide the first in depth study of this little known area of French literary history but also to question the critical consensus on the role of gender in medieval romance that has arisen from an exclusive focus on earlier works in the genre Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe Mary Lee

Nolan, Sidney Nolan, 2018-06-15 Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe is a commanding exploration of the importance of religious shrines in modern Roman Catholicism. By analyzing more than 6 000 active shrines and contemporary patterns of pilgrimage to them, the authors establish the cultural significance of a religious tradition that today touches the lives of millions of people. Roman Catholic pilgrimage sites in Western Europe range from obscure chapels and holy wells that draw visitors only from their immediate vicinity to the world famous often thronged shrines at Rome, Lourdes and Fatima. These shrines generate at least 70 million religiously motivated visits each year with total annual visitation exceeding 100 million. Substantial numbers of pilgrims at major shrines come from the Americas and other areas outside Western Europe. Mary Lee Nolan and Sidney Nolan describe and interpret the dimensions of Western European pilgrimage in time and space, a cultural geographic approach that reveals regional variations in types of shrines and pilgrimages in the sixteen countries of Western Europe. They examine numerous legends and historical accounts associated with cult images and shrines showing how these reflect ideas about humanity, divinity and environment. The Nolans demonstrate that the dynamic fluctuations in Christian pilgrimage activities over the past 2 000 years reflect socioeconomic changes and technological transformations as well as shifting intellectual orientations. Increases and decreases in the number of shrines established coincide with major turning points in European history for pilgrimage, no less than wars, revolutions and the advent of urban industrial society is an integral part of that history. Pilgrimage traditions have been influenced by and have influenced science, literature, philosophy and the arts. Christian Pilgrimage in Modern Western Europe is based on ten years of research. The Nolans collected information on 6 150 shrines from published material, correspondence with bishops and shrine administrators and interviews. They visited 852 Western European shrines in person. Their book will be of interest to many general readers and of special value to historians, cultural geographers, students of comparative religion, anthropologists, social psychologists and shrine administrators.

Negotiating Climate Change in Crisis Steffen Böhm, Sian Sullivan, 2021-09-28. Climate change negotiations have failed the world. Despite more than thirty years of high level global talks on climate change, we are still seeing carbon emissions rise dramatically. This edited volume, comprising leading and emerging scholars and climate activists from around the world, takes a critical look at what has gone wrong and what is to be done to create more decisive action. Composed of twenty eight essays, a combination of new and republished texts, the anthology is organised around seven main themes: paradigms, what counts, extraction, dispatches from a climate change frontline, country governance, finance and action. Through this multifaceted approach, the contributors ask pressing questions about how we conceptualise and respond to the climate crisis, providing both big picture perspectives and more focussed case studies. This unique and extensive collection will be of great value to environmental and social scientists alike as well as to the general reader interested in understanding current views on the climate crisis.
