Noncognitivism In Ethics New Problems Of Philosophy:

Noncognitivism in Ethics Mark Schroeder, 2010-04-05 According to noncognitivists when we say that stealing is wrong what we are doing is more like venting our feelings about stealing or encouraging one another not to steal than like stating facts about morality These ideas challenge the core not only of much thinking about morality and metaethics but also of much philosophical thought about language and meaning Noncognitivism in Ethics is an outstanding introduction to these theories ranging from their early history through the latest contemporary developments Beginning with a general introduction to metaethics Mark Schroeder introduces and assesses three principal kinds of noncognitivist theory the speech act theories of Ayer Stevenson and Hare the expressivist theories of Blackburn and Gibbard and hybrid theories He pays particular attention both to the philosophical problems about what moral facts could be about or how they could matter which noncognitivism seeks to solve and to the deep problems that it faces including the task of explaining both the nature of moral thought and the complexity of moral attitudes and the Frege Geach problem Schroeder makes even the most difficult material accessible by offering crucial background along the way Also included are exercises at the end of each chapter chapter summaries and a glossary of technical terms making Noncognitivism in Ethics essential reading for all students of ethics and metaethics

Semantic Externalism Jesper Kallestrup,2013-03 Semantic externalism is the view that the meanings of referring terms and the contents of beliefs that are expressed by those terms are not fully determined by factors internal to the speaker but are instead bound up with the environment The debate about semantic externalism is one of the most important but difficult topics in philosophy of mind and language and has consequences for our understanding of the role of social institutions and the physical environment in constituting language and the mind In this long needed book Jesper Kallestrup provides an invaluable map of the problem Beginning with a thorough introduction to the theories of descriptivism and referentialism and the work of Frege and Kripke Kallestrup moves on to analyse Putnam s Twin Earth argument Burge s arthritis argument and Davidson s Swampman argument He also discusses how semantic externalism is at the heart of important topics such as indexical thoughts epistemological skepticism self knowledge and mental causation Including chapter summaries a glossary of terms and an annotated guide to further reading Semantic Externalism an ideal guide for students studying philosophy of language and philosophy of mind

Moral Disagreement Rach Cosker-Rowland,2020-11-25 Widespread moral disagreement raises ethical epistemological political and metaethical questions Is the best explanation of our widespread moral disagreements that there are no objective moral facts and that moral relativism is correct Or should we think that just as there is widespread disagreement about whether we have free will but there is still an objective fact about whether we have it similarly moral disagreement has no bearing on whether morality is objective More practically is it arrogant to stick to our guns in the face of moral disagreement Must we suspend belief about the morality of controversial actions such as eating meat and having an abortion And does moral disagreement affect the laws that we should have For instance does disagreement about the justice of heavily redistributive taxation affect whether such taxation is legitimate In this thorough and clearly written introduction to moral disagreement and its philosophical and practical implications Rach Cosker Rowland examines and assesses the following topics and questions How does moral disagreement affect what we should do and believe in our day to day lives Epistemic peerhood and moral disagreements with our epistemic peers Metaethics and moral disagreement Relativism moral objectivity moral realism and non cognitivism Moral disagreement and normative ethics Liberalism democracy and disagreement Moral compromise Moral uncertainty Combining clear philosophical analysis with summaries of the latest research and suggestions for further reading Moral Disagreement is ideal for students of ethics metaethics political philosophy and philosophical topics that are closely related such as relativism and scepticism It will also be of interest to those in related disciplines such as ethics and public policy and philosophy of law
