North Korean Nuclear Operationality Gregory J. Moore, 2014 Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University sets the stage for a rigorous look at the threats North Korea poses to regional security and the nuclear nonproliferation regime North Korean Nuclear Operationality Gregory J. Moore, 2014-01-01 What are the consequences of a successful nuclear program in North Korea Despite near universal opposition to North Korea's moves to acquire nuclear weapons Pyongyang is determined to succeed It is only a matter of time before the North Koreans are able to combine their extant nuclear weapons capabilities with a viable delivery system The threat multiplies in light of the North Koreans having already demonstrated the willingness and ability to sell nuclear technology materials and know how to other nuclear aspirants In North Korean Nuclear Operationality Gregory J Moore asks leading experts in Asian and security studies to consider the international consequences of a North Korea with operational nuclear weapons How will South Korea China Japan and Russia react and does it mean an arms race in the region is inevitable How should the United States handle the situation both diplomatically and strategically North Korea has already destabilized the nuclear nonproliferation regime by being the only country ever to withdraw from the Nuclear Non Proliferation Treaty and then openly test nuclear weapons What are the repercussions for the nonproliferation regime of a successful North Korean move to nuclear weapons operationality Given the importance of these issues and the lack of transparency surrounding North Korean politics North Korean Nuclear Operationality offers critical and timely insight A foreword by Graham T Allison founding dean of the John F Kennedy School of Government at Harvard University sets the stage for a rigorous look at the threats North Korea poses to regional security and the nuclear nonproliferation regime North Korea and Nuclear Weapons Sung Chull Kim, Michael D. Cohen, 2017-05-01 North Korea is perilously close to developing strategic nuclear weapons capable of hitting the United States and its East Asian allies Since their first nuclear test in 2006 North Korea has struggled to perfect the required delivery systems Kim Jong un's regime now appears to be close however Sung Chull Kim Michael D Cohen and the volume contributors contend that the time to prevent North Korea from achieving this capability is virtually over scholars and policymakers must turn their attention to how to deter a nuclear North Korea The United States South Korea and Japan must also come to terms with the fact that North Korea will be able to deter them with its nuclear arsenal How will the erratic Kim Jong un behave when North Korea develops the capability to hit medium and long range targets with nuclear weapons How will and should the United States South Korea Japan and China respond and what will this mean for regional stability in the short term and long term The international group of authors in this volume address these questions and offer a timely analysis of the consequences of an operational North Korean nuclear capability for international security Security Challenges In Contemporary Indo-Pacific Zhiquan Zhu, 2025-04-02 The Indo Pacific is arguably the most important and most dynamic region in the world today with numerous opportunities and challenges This book covers major security challenges in the Indo Pacific region Both traditional security challenges such as border and maritime disputes arms races weapons of mass destruction and sovereignty and non traditional security challenges such as demography public health climate change and the environment are addressed Contributors who hail from Australia China India Japan the Philippines Singapore Taiwan the United States Vietnam and elsewhere carefully examine key security challenges facing some individual countries or the region as a whole and discuss policy implications moving forward

Regional Pathways to Nuclear Nonproliferation Wilfred Wan, 2018 This book makes a case for a reorientation of the nuclear nonproliferation regime posing an alternative conceptualization of nuclear order centered on the regional level It draws on an array of theoretical tools from the literatures on regionalism security governance and international institutions developing a framework that analyzes the conditions that would allow for more robust regional nuclear cooperation These include the presence of 1 institutional architecture 2 political economic and military relations among states and 3 fundamental regional awareness and identity Wan then deploys this theoretical approach to several case studies including Northeast Asia Southeast Asia and the Middle East focusing on two interrelated questions First what is the viability of a stronger regional nuclear order in the region Second what form would such an order most likely take In the process the book identifies the magnitude and character of the proliferation challenge specific to each region It also considers the existing character of nuclear cooperation at the regional level Wan presents the historical development of regional nuclear order in Latin America as a model for the rest of the world In this area regional institutions ranging from organizations to dialogues to ad hoc arrangements gradually became more involved across economic environmental and human security domains providing the foundation for multilateral cooperation in the nuclear arena As his analysis shows in light of the contemporary proliferation landscape the establishment and strengthening of such regional nuclear orders is essential

Global Governance, Conflict and China Matthias Vanhullebusch, 2018-01-03 Global Governance Conflict and China sheds a unique perspective on China's normative behaviour in the realm of collective security peacekeeping arms control the war on terror and post conflict justice This analysis engages with an Asian epistemological framework whose relational thought borrows from the context space and time alike that informs China's principle driven conduct on the international plane Through the lens of relational governance this work develops a new theory on the relational normativity of international law TORNIL that identifies the interdependent sources that underpin China's international legal argument i.e norms values and relationships Without a fertile soil in which those conflicting relationships between share and stakeholders can be rebuilt international laws governing post conflict violence cannot restore and maintain peace humanity and accountability
