Protecting Privacy International Procedural Protection:

Protecting Privacy in China Hao Wang, 2011-08-14 Today privacy is one of the most hotly debated topics worldwide The book aims to balance the development of personal rights in a country that has historically valued collective rights over those of the individual The protection of privacy is not an issue that has been emphasised during the rapid development of economic laws in China However the accompanying development of greater government based regulation of these laws implementation has led to greater invasions of personal privacy This study attempts to provide a way forward for China to address the ever increasing concerns about the protection of privacy and puts forward a legislative model for protection This is achieved after a thorough analysis of the threats to privacy protection in China a critical evaluation of the level of current privacy protection in China and an analysis of the privacy laws in a series of developed nations based on common law and civil law

Understanding the New European Data Protection Rules Paul Lambert, 2017-09-20 Compared to the US European data and privacy protection rules seem Draconian The European rules apply to any enterprise doing business in the EU The new rules are far more stringent than the last set This book is a quick guide to the directives for companies particularly US that have to comply with them Where US organizations and businesses who collect or receive EU personal data fail to comply with the rule the bottom line can suffer from very significant official fines and penalties as well as from users customers or representative bodies to pursuing litigation This guide is essential for all US enterprises who directly or indirectly deal with EU personal data

Protecting Privacy in Private International and Procedural Law and by Data Protection Burkhard Hess, Cristina M. Mariottini, 2015 Ensuring the effective right to privacy regarding the gathering and processing of personal data has become a key issue both in the internal market and in the international arena The extent of one's right to control their data the implications of the right to be forgotten the impact of the CJEU's decisions on personality rights and recent defamation legislation are shaping a new understanding of data protection and the right to privacy This book explores these issues with a view to assessing the status quo and prospective developments in this area of the law which is undergoing significant changes and reforms Prof Dr Dr h c Burkhard Hess is Director of the Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for International European and Regulatory Procedural Law Professor at the Universite du Luxembourg Luxembourg and the University of Heidelberg Germany Dr Cristina M Mariottini LL M is a Senior Research Fellow at the Max Planck Institute Luxembourg for International European and Regulatory Procedural Law

The Right to Data Protection Felix Bieker, 2022-05-06 This book advances an approach that combines the individual and the structural systemic dimensions of data protection It considers the right to data protection under the EU Charter and its relationship to the secondary legislation Furthermore the case law of the Court of Justice of the EU as well as current academic conceptualizations are analysed The author finds that current approaches invariably link data protection to privacy and often fail to address the structural implications of data processing He therefore suggests a dualistic approach to data protection in its individual dimension data protection aims to protect natural persons and their rights while the structural dimension protects the democratic society as a whole from the adverse effects of data processing Using this approach the full potential of an independent right to data protection can be realized Researchers practitioners and students will find this a valuable resource on the rationales scope and application of data protection Felix Bieker is Legal Researcher at the Office of the Data Protection Commissioner of Schleswig Holstein Unabhängiges Landeszentrum für Datenschutz in Kiel Germany
