

The background of the book cover is a painting of a sunset or sunrise over the ocean. In the foreground, three people are sitting on a dark, rocky shore, looking out at the sea. Two women in dark dresses are on the left, and a man in a dark suit and hat is on the right. In the middle ground, several large sailing ships are visible on the water. The sky is filled with warm, orange and yellow light from the sun, which is low on the horizon. The overall mood is contemplative and serene.

Protestant Theology in the Nineteenth Century Karl Barth, 1972

The Christology of Karl Barth and Matta al-Miskin Hani Hanna, 2019-07-02 In The Christology of Karl Barth and Matta al Miskin Hani Hanna argues that two of the most renowned theologians of the twentieth century Karl Barth and Matta al Miskin Matthew the Poor redefine the reality of God and humanity christologically in similar ways Both theologians achieve this redefinition using historical rubrics that are closer to Scripture than the traditional metaphysical categories borrowed from Greek philosophy Rooted in their respective Reformed and Coptic Orthodox traditions their works can be placed in a dialogue that takes into account modern concerns about history revelation and human agency By providing an in depth analysis of both men's christologies Hanna also finds that Barth and Matta's christological view of reality has implications for interfaith and intercultural dialogues today

Protestant Theology and Modernity in the Nineteenth-century Netherlands Arie L. Molendijk, 2022 This book examines how nineteenth century Dutch Protestant theologians and thinkers met the challenges of the modernizing world around them

Barth's Earlier Theology John Webster, 2005-10-31 In this new book Webster continues the work that he initiated in Barth's Moral Theology He addresses the important topics of biblical exegesis and historical theology in Barth's early writing and develops his own line of interpretation of Barth's theology in general Webster suggests that the traditional accounts of Barth's development are inadequate they tend to emphasize his cultural and philosophical context to focus on the same limited selection of his writings and to misjudge his theological intentions regarding him as a purely transcendental thinker or as a postmodernist In this book Webster provides detailed interpretations of early texts that have received little attention such as Barth's work on 1

Corinthians on the Reformed Confessions and on modern Protestant theology Webster draws out the significance of Barth's early biblical exegesis and historical theology and shows how his work in both fields was conceived from the beginning as important preparation for his future dogmatic work

Protestant Theology and the Making of the Modern German University Thomas Albert Howard, 2006-02-23 In shaping the modern academy and in setting the agenda of modern Christian theology few institutions have been as influential as the German universities of the nineteenth century This book examines the rise of the modern German university from the standpoint of the Protestant theological faculty focusing especially on the University of Berlin 1810 Prussia's flagship university in the nineteenth century In contradistinction to historians of modern higher education who often overlook theology and to theologians who are frequently inattentive to the social and institutional contexts of religious thought Thomas Albert Howard argues that modern university development and the trajectory of modern Protestant theology in Germany should be understood as interrelated phenomena

Kantian Reason and Hegelian Spirit Gary Dorrien, 2015-03-16 Winner 2012 The American Publishers Award for Professional and Scholarly Excellence in Theology and Religious Studies PROSE Award In this thought provoking new work the world renowned theologian Gary Dorrien reveals how Kantian and post Kantian idealism were instrumental in the foundation and development of modern Christian theology Presents a radical rethinking of the roots of modern theology Reveals how Kantian and post Kantian idealism were instrumental in the foundation and development of modern Christian theology Shows how it took Kant's writings on ethics and religion to launch a fully modern departure in religious thought Dissects Kant's three critiques of reason and his moral conception of religion Analyzes alternative arguments offered by Schleiermacher Schelling Hegel and others moving historically and chronologically through key figures in European philosophy and theology Presents notoriously difficult and intellectual arguments in a lucid and accessible manner

Theology and the University in Nineteenth-Century Germany Zachary Purvis, 2017-04-13 Theology and the University in Nineteenth Century Germany examines the dual transformation of institutions and ideas that led to the emergence of theology as science the paradigmatic project of modern theology associated with Friedrich Schleiermacher Beginning with earlier educational reforms across central Europe and especially following the upheavals of the Napoleonic period an impressive list of provocateurs iconoclasts and guardians of the old faith all confronted the nature of the university the organization of knowledge and the unity of theology's various parts quandaries which together bore the collective name of theological encyclopedia Schleiermacher's remarkably influential programme pioneered the structure and content of the theological curriculum and laid the groundwork for theology's historicization Zachary Purvis offers a comprehensive investigation of Schleiermacher's programme through the era's two predominant schools speculative theology and mediating theology Purvis highlights that the endeavour ultimately collapsed in the context of Wilhelmine Germany and the Weimar Republic beset by the rise of religious studies radical disciplinary specialization a crisis of historicism and the attacks of dialectical theology In short the project represented university theology par excellence Engaging in detail with these developments Purvis weaves the story of modern university theology into the broader tapestry of German and European intellectual culture with periodic comparisons to other national contexts In doing so he Purvis presents a substantially new way to understand the relationship between theology and the university both in nineteenth century Germany and indeed beyond
