Epilepsy Jerome Engel, 2005-04-01 This volume is the second in a series developed under the auspices of the World Federation of Neurology to meet the needs of neurologists who must practice medicine without many of the advantages that are often taken for granted in the industrialized world It is targeted to neurologists practicing in low resource environments and those who wish to practice cost effective neurology and addresses issues important for neurologists in developing countries that are not covered in standard textbooks The series will update the reader in currently accepted diagnostic and management practice Material is presented in a user friendly interactive manner with abundant case material Epilepsy is one of the most common serious primary brain disorders affecting forty million people worldwide According to the World Health Organization epilepsy accounts for 1% of the Global Burden of Disease equivalent to lung cancer in men and to breast cancer in women It is not surprising therefore that ten to twenty texts on epilepsy are published annually These texts contain the very latest information on diagnosis and treatment of various aspects of epilepsy however approximately 80% of people with epilepsy in the world live in developing countries where modern diagnostic and treatment approaches do not exist Upwards of 90% of people with epilepsy in these areas receive no treatment at all This is the first text to address the issues faced by neurologists who must deliver care with limited resources often in a setting of tropical diseases and malnutrition that characterize practice in developing countries
