Pathways into Information Literacy and Communities of Practice Dora Sales, Maria Pinto, 2016-09-26. Pathways into Information Literacy and Communities of Practice: Teaching Approaches and Case Studies considers the specific information literacy needs of communities of practice. As such, the book fills a gap in the literature which has treated information literacy extensively but has not applied it to the area of communities of practice. Since every community of practice generates, seeks, retrieves and uses resources and sources related to the cognitive structure being researched or studied and the tasks being performed, the need arises to undertake studies focused on real user communities, especially at a graduate level. This edited collection presents contributions from an international perspective on this key topic in library and information science. Contributions are arranged into two sections: the first exploring teaching and learning processes and the second presenting case studies in communities of practice, including but not limited to health research environments, college students and higher education. Focuses on communities of practice including health research and higher education and their distinct information needs. Includes chapters from an international and experienced set of contributors. Presents an interdisciplinary perspective on the topic.

Resources in Education, 2001-04. NBS Special Publication, 1973. Public Health, Public Health Education, and their Future Prospects Xuelei Ma, Hubing Shi, Yihui Du, Wenhao Cai, 2024-04-15. A number of studies have pointed out that currently medical schools may have failed to supply self-directed lifelong learners and qualified healthcare workers. Therefore, in recent years, the medical teaching modes have been consistently reformed. The new generation of novel education modes such as Research Based Learning (RBL), Problem Based Learning (PBL), Team Based Learning (TBL) have the characteristics of universality, interactivity and promptness which empower instructors and students to learn and grow together. Moreover, the reform of medical teaching modes has been significantly facilitated in the COVID-19 era due to public's rising awareness of public health and more obviously pandemic prevention policies such as travel restrictions. For instance, many countries have launched remote teaching mode in order to provide consistent education service with high quality. These novel teaching modes can provide amelioration to the traditional education modes and may lead the education system to another prosperity.
