Reshaping Welfare States And Activation Regimes In Europe Work And Society No:

Reshaping Welfare States and Activation Regimes in Europe SALTSA (Program),2007 The activation based intervention paradigm is being adopted by several European countries resulting in major reforms to the social welfare system The spread of the activation paradigm has had major repercussions not only for welfare interventions aimed at combating unemployment but also for the political regulation of the social question and citizenship Citizenship is being redefined in contractual terms and greater emphasis is being placed on its economic aspects Nevertheless a wide range of policies are labelled with recourse to this interpretative framework and a pluralistic approach to implementation could serve just as well to empower as to weaken workers citizens position in society This book analyses the extent of these changes from a cross cultural perspective Institutional settings as well as prevailing work values and social representation of social exclusion activation regimes have a key role in defining the instruments to be used in national activation strategies to regulate the behaviour of job seekers In this book a discussion about the range of social welfare model reforms throughout Europe and a typology of activation regimes is proposed Global Social Transformation and Social Action: The Role of Social Workers Sven Hesse,2016-04-22 Global social transformation calls for global social action 2010 saw the launch of The Global Agenda for Social Work and Social Development which detailed how social workers can strive to bring about increased social justice The time is right to start to address and demonstrate the actions that might be required to develop and accomplish the Agenda with regard to methods in practice and research in social policy and social work education and in a broader discourse of global commitment and cooperation This informative and incisively written edited collection brings together experts from around the world to discuss issues which the social work and social welfare sectors face every day and to ensure a closer link between evidence based practice policy objectives and social development goals Furthermore this book reveals how these may affect the conditions of people and demonstrate how the social work and social development community can contribute to sustainable development Industrial Relations in Small Companies Christian Dufour,2007 Reference is often made to small companies but little is known about them especially regarding industrial relations How can small companies be defined Is their small size a sufficient feature for them to be considered the same If they are different from each other what makes them so Is the distinction between them and other companies big ones relevant In what way is life organised in such units where employer and employees are in very close contact with each other In order to answer these questions the authors of this innovative book carried out surveys together in France Sweden and Germany They met employers employees union members and industrial relations specialists Comparisons of these three national cases show that small companies do have common features that transcend frontiers They do however also have national characteristics They therefore warrant being analysed and understood in something other than merely negative terms It thus appears that small companies are not so far off resembling big ones Europe 2020 Eric Marlier,David Natali,2010 This book attempts to answer the question How can Europe 2020 the EU s new strategy for smart sustainable and inclusive growth lead to a stronger social EU with less poverty and greater social cohesion Examined in depth are achieving the EU s ambitious social objectives to lift at least 20 million people out of the risk of poverty and exclusion by 2020 and the Union s four other mutually reinforcing targets A key objective of the book is to take a critical look at and draw lessons from the past 2000 2010 Lisbon Strategy Another important objective is to explore the format and role of EU coordination and cooperation in the social field in the new EU governance framework in a context marked by slow recovery after the global economic crisis Finally the book also makes proposals for the further reinforcement of this coordination and cooperation and for the improvement of the different instruments available at EU national and sub national levels

Emerging Systems of Work and Welfare Pertti Koistinen, 2009 In order to examine what kind of policies can produce a positive relationship between social justice and economic efficiency this book emphasises the need for a holistic approach which includes not only labour recognised by the market but also informal labour

Transnational Labour Regulation Kerstin Ahlberg, 2008 This book illuminates the process and substance of transnational regulation of labour in a global economy Transnational labour regulation a central feature of the European social model engages the 27 Member States of the European Union and is of potential importance to the rest of the world The book analyses the attempts at transnational regulation of temporary agency work through the social dialogue between trade unions and employers organisations at European level and the subsequent and so far fruitless EU legislative process These two processes of transnational labour regulation and their interaction until now have been largely invisible The book also highlights distinctive features of Member States national regulation as they interacted with the debates on EU transnational labour regulation It further explores the overlap between regulation of temporary agency work and the EU s regulation of transnational trade in services the subject of the Directive on services in the internal market Finally it draws lessons from the experience of regulation of temporary agency work at national and European levels for transnational labour regulation in general Jobs on the Move Béla Galgóczi, 2008 The aim of this book is to explore the complexity of the new forms of international division of labour within the enlarged EU using an analytical approach
