

Kindergarten Report Card Comments

Note 1 – Comments are organized around terms as guidelines only in order to assist new Kindergarten teachers.

Note 2 – Many comments are sentence starters only, and require an example of how the student demonstrates understanding, or a suggestion to support learning.

Note 3 – In the Approaching Expectations area, you may prefer to use the terms, “with direct support”, or “with guided support”. For example, - identifies his name with direct support, such as when a limited number of names are presented

The NAEP 1997 Arts Report Card Hilary R. Persky, Brent A. Sandene, Janice M. Askew, 1998 The last several years have seen a growing resolve among educators and policymakers to assure the place of a solid arts education in U S schools In 1997 the National Assessment of Educational Progress NAEP conducted a national assessment in the arts at grade 8 The assessment included the areas of music theater and visual arts For each of these arts areas this Report Card describes the achievement of eighth graders within the general population and in various subgroups Taken with the information provided about instructional and institutional variables this report gives a context for evaluating the status of students learning in the arts The arts assessment was designed to measure the content specifications described in the arts framework for NAEP The arts have a unique capacity to integrate intellect emotions and physical skills in the creation of meaning Meaningful arts assessments need to be built around three arts processes creating performing and responding To capture these processes the arts assessment exercises included authentic tasks that assessed students knowledge and skills and constructed response and multiple choice questions that explore students abilities to describe analyze interpret and evaluate works of art in written form Data are reported in overall summaries for creating performing and responding in terms of student and school reported background variables Student results for theater are discussed in terms of teacher reported background variables as well The major findings of the assessment are that a large percentage of grade 8 students attend schools in which music and visual arts were taught usually by specialists most students attended schools in which instruction following district or state curricula was offered in music and visual arts but not in theater or dance and most visual arts and music instruction took place in school facilities that were dedicated to that subject JH

The Art of Focused Conversation for Schools, Third Edition Jo Nelson, 2013-08-20 Why don t kids learn Why can t students do higher order thinking Why do educators have endless staff meetings with few results How can parents and teachers communicate better The pressure upon educators to teach more to a wider range and number of students with decreasing resources and supports makes it urgent to find tools to answer such questions The Art of Focused Conversation for Schools demonstrates how the Focused Conversation method widely used in organizations and businesses can effectively be used in a K 12 educational setting Each section deals with interactions among students staff and parents and elaborates with over 100 sample conversations designed to make learning more meaningful prevent and solve problems and make communications in meetings more effective Appendices showcase integrated curriculum examples where conversations have been used in unique combinations and list sample questions for each level of the conversation method With a bibliography and index included and patterned after its highly successful predecessor The Art of Focused Conversation 100 Ways to Access Group Wisdom in the Workplace this book will be welcomed by parents students educators and school administrators everywhere The Institute of Cultural Affairs has over 40 years experience in more than 32 nations A unique facilitation research and training organization ICA Canada has provided participatory skills to many thousands of people worldwide Resources in Education ,1998 The Other Side of the Report Card Maurice J. Elias,Joseph J. Ferrito,Dominic C. Mocer,2015-12-14 To better serve the whole child look at the whole report card Although parents and teachers spend more time in conferences talking about behavior than they do about rubrics and test scores too many teachers are still guessing when it comes to using outdated behavior ratings and comments to describe the whole child With this book you ll take report cards to the next level integrating social emotional learning and character development into any grading system Resources include Guided exercises for analyzing existing report cards Suggested report card designs Tips on improving teacher parent communication Case studies Testimonials from teachers and students Cognitive and Moral Development, Academic Achievement in Adolescence Richard M. Lerner,Jasna Jovanovic,2016-01-28 This volume focuses on concepts central to the understanding of the key features of individuality which undergo significant transformations throughout the adolescent period Personality self and ego While rooted in distinct theoretical traditions these three concepts in combination capture the core aspects of the formation of the individual s unique sense of self or identity a psychosocial development fundamentally associated with adolescence Consistent with the developmental systems models of person context relations at the forefront of current human development theory and research the articles within this volume focus on the dynamic reciprocal relations between youth and key socializing agents within their ecologies Nevertheless the articles represented in this volume illustrate that when attempting to understand the development of personality and self systems scholars differ in the extent to which they place primary emphasis on the individual on the context or on the relationship between the two The Principal's Companion Pam Robbins,Harvey B. Alvy,2003 This book adds extremely relevant knowledge and skills for innovative reformers and for more traditional leaders alike It provides a solid set of interesting and shrewd suggestions that can be used immediately by practising principals From the Foreword by Kent D Peterson Professor Department of Educational Administration University of Wisconsin Madison Despite the administrative leadership training that most principals receive in university courses their most useful learning doesn't occur until they are on the job. And the new knowledge, much of it the result of trial and error, success and failure is gained in relative isolation simply because there is no one else at that responsibility level within the school. Pam Robbins, an educational consultant, and Harvey B. Alvy, a practicing principal, offer a well-organized interactive manual for the role of principal. They have worked with hundreds of schools, educators, and other organizations around the world, collecting data that form the basis for The Principal's Companion. This easy-to-read book combines the most helpful, tried-and-true strategies with the most relevant leadership research and theory. The authors discuss creative leadership and necessary skills, the wide variety of roles played by principals, how to create a learning community, personal and professional issues, and much more. Quotes from practicing principals are included throughout the book, and readers are encouraged to jot down their own reflections about each chapter theme. The Principal's Companion is a rare opportunity to collaborate with other principals, an excellent professional resource that will be referred to again and again. Ideal for practicing and aspiring principals, it is also highly useful as a text for administration courses.

Community Update, 1997. Focuses on how communities can learn from each other as they improve their schools. Features best practices and model programs from around the nation. Identifies useful educational resources, services, and publications. Summarizes important educational research, conveys important news from the Secretary of Education, along with the progress of Department Initiatives.
