Goodchild,Michael Batty,Mei-Po Kwan,Anshu Zhang,2021-04-06 This open access book is the first to systematically introduce the principles of urban informatics and its application to every aspect of the city that involves its functioning control management and future planning It introduces new models and tools being developed to understand and implement these technologies that enable cities to function more efficiently to become smart and sustainable. The smart city has quickly emerged as computers have become ever smaller to the point where they can be embedded into the very fabric of the city as well as being central to new ways in which the population can communicate and act. When cities are wired in this way they have the potential to become sentient and responsive, generating massive streams of big data in real time as well as providing immense opportunities for extracting new forms of urban data through crowdsourcing. This book offers a comprehensive review of the methods that form the core of urban informatics from various kinds of urban remote sensing to new approaches to machine learning and statistical modelling. It provides a detailed technical introduction to the wide array of tools information scientists need to develop the key urban analytics that are fundamental to learning about the smart city and it outlines ways in which these tools can be used to inform design and policy so that cities can become more efficient with a greater concern for environment and equity.

Networks Benny Bing, 2002. The joint conference ICWLHN 2002 and ICN 2002 covers a wide variety of technical sessions covering all aspects of networking technology. It features some of the world's most dynamic presenters including leading experts such as Norman Abramson, inventor of the first access protocol, OCo, the ALOHA protocol, and Daniel Awduche, pioneer of the MPLambdaS concept now referred to as GMPLS. The proceedings for this joint conference is accessible to engineers, practitioners, scientists, as well as industry professionals from manufacturers to service providers.

Smart Technologies in Healthcare Management Nidhi Sindhwani, Sarvesh Tanwar, Ajay Rana, Ramani Kannan, 2024-06-28. Offering a holistic view of the pioneering trends and innovations in smart healthcare management, this book focuses on the methodologies, frameworks, design issues, tools, architectures, and technologies necessary to develop and understand intelligent healthcare systems and emerging applications in the present era. Smart Technologies in Healthcare Management: Pioneering Trends and Applications provides an overview of various technical and innovative aspects, challenges, and issues in smart healthcare along with recent and novel findings. It highlights the latest advancements and applications in the field of intelligent systems and explores the importance of cloud computing and the design of sensors in an IoT system. The book offers algorithms and a framework with models in machine learning and AI for smart healthcare management. A detailed flow chart and innovative and modified methodologies related to intelligent computing in healthcare are discussed, as well as real-world based examples so that readers can compare technical concepts with daily life concepts. This book will be a useful reference for academicians and the healthcare industry along with professionals interested in exploring innovations in varied applicational areas of AI, IoT, and machine learning.
