No God No Science Theology Cosmology Biology:

No God, No Science Michael Hanby, 2013-02-19 No God No Science Theology Cosmology Biology presents a work of philosophical theology that retrieves the Christian doctrine of creation from the distortions imposed upon it by positivist science and the Darwinian tradition of evolutionary biology Argues that the doctrine of creation is integral to the intelligibility of the world Brings the metaphysics of the Christian doctrine of creation to bear on the nature of science Offers a provocative analysis of the theoretical and historical relationship between theology metaphysics and science Presents an original critique and interpretation of the philosophical meaning of Darwinian biology No God, No Science Michael Hanby, 2016-11-30 No God No Science Theology Cosmology Biology presents a work of philosophical theology that retrieves the Christian doctrine of creation from the distortions imposed upon it by positivist science and the Darwinian tradition of evolutionary biology Argues that the doctrine of creation is integral to the intelligibility of the world Brings the metaphysics of the Christian doctrine of creation to bear on the nature of science Offers a provocative analysis of the theoretical and historical relationship between theology metaphysics and science Presents an original critique and interpretation of the philosophical meaning of Darwinian biology Cosmology Without God? David Alcalde, 2019-06-26 Is God a superfluous hypothesis for modern cosmology According to the normal understanding of modern science the answer should be affirmative because modern science is supposed to be free of metaphysical and theological presuppositions However despite its self proclaimed neutrality regarding metaphysics and theology modern science is full of metaphysical and theological presuppositions These can be summarized as a mechanistic understanding of nature a reduction of God to an external agent in competition with natural processes and creation to a worldly mechanism These presuppositions are deficient and untenable and they remain unconscious for the most part in the dialogue between science and theology making it intellectually impossible because of the reduced notions of God nature and creation assumed Using the coherent and unreduced image of God and nature provided by the Christian doctrine of creation ex nihilo Fr David Alcalde intends to uncover and criticize the incoherent theological assumptions inherent in a concrete branch of modern science which is modern cosmology The author points out the presence of these inadequate theological presuppositions in both the theologians who use modern cosmology to offer scientific proof for the existence of God and the atheistic cosmologists who use their science to reject the idea of God Natural Law: Five Views Zondervan, 2025-05-27 The story of natural law the idea that God has written a law on the human heart so that ethical norms derive from human nature in twentieth century Protestant ethics is one of rejection and resurgence For half a century luminaries like Karl Barth Carl F H Henry and Cornelius Van Til cast a shadow over natural law moral reflection because of its putative link to natural theology autonomous reason associations with Catholic theology and ethical witness devoid of special revelation However over the past twenty years Protestant theologians have renewed their interest in the subject often animated by debates on Christian involvement in the public arena and on matters of life death and gender and sexuality Much of this engagement has happened within Reformed circles and has largely been conducted without reference to Roman Catholic construals of the natural law Conversely Catholic developments in natural law thinking have paid little attention to the surge of interest on the Protestant side As a result Protestant and Catholic natural proponents and even those skeptical of the natural law are not in conversation with one another The lack of dialog between the various schools of natural law has left a historic tradition within Christian moral thought underdeveloped in contemporary Protestant theology By bringing together a variety of perspectives in much needed conversation this book helps readers to understand the various construals of natural law within the broader strands of Christian and classical traditions and clarifies its unique importance for Christian moral witness in a secular culture The contributors address the following questions What is natural law Can moral norms be derived from immanent creaturely ends If so how specific or action guiding can those norms be How extensive might these moral norms be How does natural law endure despite Christian insistence on the noetic epistemological effects of sin What is the relationship between Christian reflection on natural law and the broader classical tradition s understanding of natural law How do Catholic and Protestant construals of natural law differ What is the relationship between faith and reason What s the relationship between human nature and natural law Does natural law mean secular moral reasons Or is natural law merely religious belief disguised as public reason How does natural law relate to public reason Does the affirmation of a natural law lead to a natural theology Or are these distinct What is the relationship between natural law and the laws of nature Five views Classical Natural Law Michael Pakaluk New Natural Law Melissa Moschella Reformed Natural Law W Bradford Littlejohn Lutheran Natural Law Joel D Bierman Anti Natural Law Peter J Leithart

Liturgy, Theurgy, and Active Participation Kjetil Kringlebotten, 2023-09-08 Providing a metaphysical grounding for liturgical participation this book argues that active participation in the liturgy must be understood principally as our participation in God s act particularly in the act of Christ and only secondarily as our ritual involvement Utilizing Neoplatonist philosophy Kjetil Kringlebotten proposes that this should be understood in terms of theurgy which is the human participation in divine action which finds its consummation in the incarnation of Christ Without the incarnation all acts will remain extrinsic and imposed but acts can become real and intrinsic precisely because the incarnation makes possible true union with the divine a metaphysical union in distinction without confusion because this union is not extrinsic Through union with Christ as the one common focus of the divine human relation we can have true union with God and may offer true worship In order to make sense of active participation then we need to understand theology in theurgic terms where theurgy is understood not as a mechanical coercion of God but as a participation in His act in creation and through Christ as the true theurgist the master theurgist Whose work transforms our act and the liturgy

Christology as Critique Knut Alfsvag, 2018-09-24 If the origin of the world is not a part of the world what are the implications for our understanding of ourselves the world and its origin In antiquity both gentile and Christian authors agreed that the significance of this question could only be maintained by accepting the unbridgeable difference between the world and God. Not even Christology as the most ambitious attempt at developing a model for divine human communication was allowed to undermine the principle of absolute divine difference. This changed with the modern emphasis on univocity and measurability as the defining aspects of knowledge. From the point of view of a philosophy of absolute difference, this appears as an arbitrary loss of perspective. By focusing on four authors: Cusanus, Luther, Hamann, and Kierkegaard, who have explored how the Christian and paradoxical understanding of Christ as eternal God and true human subverts the modern emphasis on unambiguity and definability, the present investigation makes an attempt to retrieve what has been lost. Classical Christology as interpreted by these authors thus appears as an indispensable tool for receiving and appreciating the gift of the world in a way that is not unduly limited by anthropocentric prejudice.

Design Discourse in Abrahamic Traditions E.V.R. Kojonen, Shoaib A. Malik, 2024-11-11. Design Discourse in Abrahamic Traditions reconnects discussion of design arguments to its Jewish, Christian, and Muslim history. The ancient idea that there is evidence of purpose in nature remains one of the most debated topics in science and religion but also one with great potential for interreligious and interdisciplinary dialogue. This volume revitalizes current discussion by retrieving perspectives from the Abrahamic history of design arguments and engaging them with contemporary ideas. Beginning with the encounter, ancient philosophy and creation beliefs, the book proceeds to delve deep into issues ranging from the nature of theological and teleological language to the implications of evolution and evil. This rich exploration showcases how far from being irrelevant in a post-Humean, post-Darwinian world, design arguments continue to merit both popular level and academic attention. The volume will be of particular interest to scholars working at the intersection of science and religion, philosophers of religion, and theologians.

Christian Eco-Spirituality Robin A. Parry, 2025-10-16. Is there anything distinctive that Christians can contribute to the environmental cause beyond human resources, responsible citizenship, and consumer power? Robin Parry argues that what Christianity has to offer is a distinctive spirituality, one that provides a rich rationale for creation care principles to guide it and the resources to empower, equip, and form people to walk the pathway with resilience. This book seeks to bring into focus the critical importance of God's creation inherent in Christian theological beliefs, spiritual action, and ethical values. It explores a range of biblical teachings and practices that help us to see the world with new eyes, discerning the presence of God's Wisdom at the heart of all things. At its core, this is a book about a slow spirituality, one that helps us reconnect with the rhythms of the natural world as we learn what it means to inhabit creation as creatures living alongside other creatures with faces turned towards our Creator.

Bound for Beatitude: A Thomistic Study in Eschatology and Ethics Reinhard Hütter, 2019. Bound for Beatitude is about St. Thomas Aquinas's theology of beatitude and the journey thereto. Consequently, the work's topic is the meaning and purpose of human life embedded in that of the whole cosmos. This study is not an antiquarian exercise in the thought of some sundry medieval thinker but an exercise of ressourcement in the philosophical and theological wisdom of one of the most profound theologians of the Catholic Church one whom the Church has canonized granted the title Doctor of the Church and for a long time regarded as the common doctor This exercise of ressourcement takes its methodological cues from the common doctor hence it is an integrated exercise of philosophical dogmatic and moral theology Its specific theological topic the ultimate human end perfect happiness beatitude and the journey thereto stands at the very heart of St Thomas s theology Far from being pass his theology of beatitude is of urgent pertinence as the crisis of humanity and of creation and the exile of God seems to approach its apogee By way of a presentation interpretation and defense of Thomas Aquinas s doctrine of beatitude and the journey thereto Bound for Beatitude advances an argument based on four theses 1 The loss of a theology of beatitude has greatly impoverished contemporary theology In order to succeed and flourish theology must recover a sound teleological orientation 2 In order to recover a sound teleological orientation theology must recover metaphysics as its privileged instrument 3 Thomas Aquinas provides a still pertinent model for how theology might achieve these goals in a metaphysically profound theology of beatitude and the beatific vision Finally 4 Aquinas s rich and sophisticated account of the virtues charts the journey to beatitude in a way that still has analytic force and striking relevance in the early twenty first century Divine Presence Knut Alfsvag, 2021-09-09 Theology should be at home both in the academy and in the church This book takes such dual affiliation seriously and lets the two different contexts illuminate each other It explores how we should understand theology within the context of the current debate on theory of science and discusses the methodological implications of belief in God as Creator and in the incarnation The first part of the book concludes by examining the consequences of theology s dual affiliation for the self understanding of believers in general and theologians in particular The second part deals with four different sources of theological knowledge and their relation to each other the Bible the history of the church experience and reason Among the central issues are the status of the Bible in contemporary theology the unity of the church and the relationship between theology and the natural sciences The central question is where do we experience divine presence
