States of Surveillance Maya Avis, Daniel Marciniak, Maria Sapignoli, 2024-10-07 Recent discussions on big data surveillance and artificial intelligence in governance have opened up an opportunity to think about the role of technology in the production of the knowledge states use to govern. Drawing on ethnographic research in contexts from across the globe the contributions to this volume engage with technology's promises of transformation scrutinise established ways of thinking that become embedded through technologies critically consider the dynamics that shape the political economy driving the expansion of security technologies and examine how those at the margins navigate experiences of surveillance. The book is intended for an interdisciplinary academic audience interested in ethnographic approaches to the study of surveillance technologies in policing and justice. Concrete case studies provide students practitioners and activists from a broad range of backgrounds with nuanced entry points to the debate. Weapons of the US Special Operations Command Chris McNab, 2019-07-25 The units and formations of the US Special Operations Command SOCOM have privileged access to the finest weaponry in the world's arsenal. Whether Army Navy Air Force or Marines the SOCOM troops select weapons that match their mission requirements but which also sit at the cutting edge of combat technology. This means that while SOCOM troops frequently use standard issue weaponry they also adopt many specialist pieces of kit that are not so accessible to the broader armed services including sniper rifles battle rifles and machine guns as well as high tech tactical accessories used to transform standard weaponry into something exceptional. Assessing the technology and capabilities of these combat weapons as well as how they have been used in modern combat this fully illustrated study lifts the veil on some of the most distinctive hand held weapon systems of US special operations forces since 1987. Grey Wars N.
