Women's Experiences in Leadership in K-16 Science Education Communities, Becoming and Being Katherine C. Wieseman,Molly Weinburgh,2009-06-18 A discourse on women s leadership within science education has until now been largely invisible in book form This therefore is the first book to address women's leadership within science education. The book embraces relational ways of knowing as a foundation for leadership and takes courageous steps by exposing our innermost tensions, dilemmas, and feelings about leadership, making them available to others. The power promise of feminine approaches to transform traditional leadership cultures is also addressed. The authors believe that anyone can lead regardless of position, title, years of experience, or age. They also believe that each of us has a responsibility to provide some leadership and direction for the shared endeavours of which we are part. The purpose of the book is to inspire and guide educators and academics in K-16 science education as well as individuals in other professions as their leadership skills develop. The leadership activities provided offer guidance and/or concrete ways to delve into issues of leadership. Crossing the Border from Preservice to Inservice Science Teacher Dennis W.

Sunal, Cynthia S. Sunal, Justina A. Ogodo, 2024-09-01. This RISE volume examines various approaches researchers have used to induct new teachers and mitigate the high turnover rates. Crossing the Border From Preservice to Inservice Science Teacher Research Based Induction as Professional Development offers readers various tested strategies for supporting and retaining early career science teachers. Some of the common tested effective strategies involve increasing teacher reflection, fostering teacher leadership, developing collegial collaboration, strengthen teacher identity, introducing PLC involvement in both preservice and inservice settings, expanding IHE teacher preparation to more deeply include classroom teachers using graduate coursework to introduce induction PD and long-term follow up of early career teachers. The contributing authors explain different approaches successfully implemented in various settings and their impact on developing high quality teachers with the self-efficacy to positively impact student learning. The ideas provided in the volume can be replicated in part and whole in other settings with the potential for similar results. Improving Innovation Through Better Management The Expert Panel on Innovation Management Education and Training, 2018-10-18. Improving Innovation Through Better Management explores ways to provide innovation management training to a large, diverse population of students throughout their careers. The report identifies the competencies that are likely to enhance innovation management, describes what's currently known about where and how to effectively teach these competencies, and outlines the implications for academic institutions, industry, and government. Exemplary Science in Grades 5-8 Robert Eugene Yager, 2006. This volume is the third in NSTA's Exemplary Science monograph series, which provides the results of an unprecedented national search to assess how well the Standards vision has been realized nine years after the National Science Education Standards were released.
