Empedocles of Acragas Nicos I. Georgakellos,2019-02-15 Empedocles of Acragas is known as philosopher healer excellent orator miracle maker and engineer This book shows that the careful study of extant fragments of his writings confirms that he was a multi faceted thinker In a period when most thinkers were monists he was a pluralist and the first to introduce the principle of the four elements roots as he has named them as well as the two motive factors Love and Strife closely dependent on one another Scholars students and specialists will find in this book a guide to new and unexplored paths of Empedocles revolutionary thought Celtic Astrology from the Druids to the Middle Ages M.G. Boutet,2017-07-11 Our understanding of Celtic astrology is based mainly on the speculations of modern authors mostly drawn from classical Greek and Roman writings and suffers from many misconceptions European astrology uses the Greek model containing many Babylonian and Egyptian elements But Celtic astrology and other Indo European astrologies developed earlier with relationships to Middle Eastern systems as well as their own independent forms This well documented study takes a fresh look at the development of Celtic astrology and the Druids systems of cosmology astronomy and astrology The author analyzes commentaries found in manuscript sources from antiquity to the Middle Ages comparing them with cosmological and astronomical lore found in Celtic cultures Ancient constellations calendars deities and rituals reveal a rich worldview

The Masks of Mary Renault Caroline Zilboorg,2013-10-10 Born Eileen Mary Challans in London in 1905 Mary Renault wrote six successful contemporary novels before turning to the historical fiction about ancient Greece for which she is best known While Renault s novels are still highly regarded her life and work have never been completely examined Caroline Zilboorg seeks to remedy this in The Masks of Mary Renault by exploring Renault s identity as a gifted writer and a sexual woman in a society in which neither of these identities was clear or easy Although Renault s life was anything but ordinary this fact has often been obscured by her writing The daughter of a doctor she grew up comfortably and attended a boarding school in Bristol She received a degree in English from St Hugh s College in Oxford in 1928 but she chose not to pursue an academic career Instead she decided to attend the Radcliffe Infirmary in Oxford where she trained to be a nurse With the outbreak of the Second World War she was assigned to the Winford Emergency Hospital in Bristol and briefly worked with Dunkirk evacuees She went on to work in the Radcliffe Infirmary s brain surgery ward and was there until 1945 It was during her nurse s training that Renault met Julie Mullard who became her lifelong companion This important lesbian relationship both resolved and posed many problems for Renault not the least of which was how she was to write about issues at once intensely personal and socially challenging In 1939 Renault published her first novel under a pseudonym in order to mask her identity It was a time when she was struggling not only with her vocation nursing and writing but also with her sexual identity in the social and moral context of English life during the war In 1948 Renault left England with Mullard for South Africa and never returned It was in South Africa that she made the shift from her early contemporary novels of manners to the mature historical novels of Hellenic life The classical settings allowed Renault to mask material too explosive to deal with directly while simultaneously giving her an academic freedom to write about subjects vital to her among them war peace career women s roles female and male homosexuality and bisexuality Renault s reception complicates an understanding of her achievement for she has a special status within the academic community where she is both widely read and little written about Her interest in sexuality and specifically in homosexuality and bisexuality in fluid gender roles and identities warrants a rereading and reevaluation of her work Eloquently written and extensively researched The Masks of Mary Renault will be of special value to anyone interested in women s studies or English literature Cincinnati Magazine ,2002-01 Cincinnati Magazine taps into the DNA of the city exploring shopping dining living and culture and giving readers a ringside seat on the issues shaping the region Bosnien-Herzegovina Nirman Moranjak-Bamburać,2001 The History of the Origins of Christianity.
