Reference Manual to Mitigate Potential Terrorist Attacks Against Buildings Michael Chipley, 2003 The text provides guidance to the building science community of architects and engineers to reduce physical damage to buildings related infrastructure and people caused by terrorist assaults. It presents incremental approaches that can be implemented over time to decrease the vulnerability of buildings to terrorist threats. Many of the recommendations can be implemented quickly and cost effectively. The manual contains many how-to aspects based upon current information contained in Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA), Department of Commerce, Department of Defense, Department of Justice, General Services Administration, Department of Veterans Affairs, Centers for Disease Control and Prevention, National Institute for Occupational Safety and Health and other publications. It describes a threat assessment methodology and presents a Building Vulnerability Assessment Checklist to support the assessment process. It also discusses architectural and engineering design considerations, standoff distances, explosive blast and chemical, biological and radiological (CBR) information. The appendices include a glossary of CBR definitions as well as general definitions of key terminologies used in the building science security area. The appendices also describe design considerations for electronic security systems and provide a listing of associations and organizations currently working in the building science security area.

Reference Manual To Mitigate Potential Terrorist Attacks Against Buildings Department of Homeland Security, Federal Emergency Management Agency, 2003

Risk Management Series: Risk Assessment - A How-To Guide to Mitigate Potential Terrorist Attacks Against Buildings Federal Emergency Agency, U. S. Department Security, 2013-01-26 The Federal Emergency Management Agency (FEMA) developed this Risk Assessment A How To Guide to Mitigate Potential Terrorist Attacks Against Buildings to provide a clear, flexible and comprehensive methodology to prepare a risk assessment. The intended audience includes the building sciences community of architects and engineers working for private institutions, building owners, operators, managers and State and local government officials working in the building sciences community. The objective of this How To Guide is to outline methods for identifying the critical assets and functions within buildings, determining the threats to those assets and assessing the vulnerabilities associated with those threats. Based on those considerations, the methods presented in this How To Guide provide a means to assess the risk to the assets and to make risk-based decisions on how to mitigate those risks. The scope of the methods includes reducing physical damage to structural and non structural components of buildings and related infrastructure and reducing resultant casualties during conventional

bomb attacks as well as chemical biological and radiological CBR agents This document is written as a How To Guide It presents five steps and multiple tasks within each step that will lead you through a process for conducting a risk assessment and selecting mitigation options It discusses what information is required to conduct a risk assessment how and where to obtain it and how to use it to calculate a risk score against each selected threat This is one of a series of publications that address security issues in high population private sector buildings This document is a companion to the Reference Manual to Mitigate Potential Terrorist Attacks Against Buildings FEMA 426 and the Building Design for Homeland Security Training Course FEMA E155 This document also leverages information contained within the Primer for Design of Commercial Buildings to Mitigate Terrorist Attacks FEMA 427 The primary use of this risk assessment methodology is for buildings although it could be adapted for other types of critical infrastructure The foundation of the risk assessment methodology presented in this document is based on the approach that was developed for the Department of Veterans Affairs VA through the National Institute for Building Sciences NIBS Over 150 buildings have been successfully assessed using this technique The risk assessment methodology presented in this publication has been refined by FEMA for this audience The purpose of this How To Guide is to provide a methodology for risk assessment to the building sciences community working for private institutions It is up to the decision makers to decide which types of threats they wish to protect against and which mitigation options are feasible and cost effective This How To Guide views as critical that a team created to assess a particular building will be composed of professionals capable of evaluating different parts of the building They should be senior individuals who have a breadth and depth of experience in the areas of civil electrical and mechanical engineering architecture site planning and security engineering and how security and antiterrorism considerations affect site and building design
