Night Train to Lisbon Emily Grayson, 2010-09-14 Night Train to Lisbon is a sensuous tale of the pursuit of love and passion against all odds set in the 1930s when the world was on the brink of war and suspicion of loyalty motivation and intent to both country and lover was at flood tide Carson Weatherell is a privileged young American woman traveling in Europe in 1936 courtesy of her aunt and uncle who live abroad and have kindly offered to show her the sights About of illness and self pity almost send her back to her sheltered Connecticut life but on an overnight train to Lisbon she suddenly can't imagine returning home On that train she meets Alec Breve a young British scientist traveling with a group of colleagues and in his company Carson finds that she's enjoying herself certainly for the first time since she left New York Harbor and quite possibly for the first time in her life In Lisbon Carson and Alec begin an intense love affair but their bliss is threatened when Carson's uncle reveals that Alec might be a spy for Germany He insists that it is essential that Alec be trapped and brought to justice and the only person who can deliver an unsuspecting Alec to the proper authorities is Carson Desperate to believe in her new love and terrified of discovering she has fallen for a traitor Carson must choose whether to prove her lover innocent or leave him to face the consequences on his own A riveting page turner Night Train to Lisbon travels back to the days when war loomed the Mitford sisters dazzled and night trains brimmed with romance and intrigue delivering a mesmerizing novel of a love that must truly conquer all in order to survive The Routledge Companion to European Cinema Gábor Gergely, Susan Hayward, 2021-12-29 Presenting new and diverse scholarship this wide ranging collection of 43 original chapters asks what European cinema tells us about Europe The book engages with European cinema that attends to questions of European colonial racialized and gendered power seeks to decentre Europe itself not merely its putative centres and interrogate Europe's various conceptualizations from a variety of viewpoints. It explores the broad complex and heterogeneous communities produced in and by European films taking in Kurdish Hollywood and Singapore cinema as comfortably as the cinema of Poland, Spanish colonial films or the European gangster genre. Chapters cover numerous topics including individual films, film movements, filmmakers, stars, scholarship, representations and identities, audiences, production practices, genres and more, all analysed in their contexts so as to construct an image of Europe as it emerges from Europe's film corpus. The Companion opens the study of European cinema to a broad readership and is ideal for students and scholars in film, European studies, queer studies and cultural studies as well as historians with an interest in audio-visual culture, nationalism and transnationalism and those working in language-based area studies.

Life Without End Karl Siegfried Guthke, 2017 A groundbreaking study examining major literary treatments of the idea of earthly immortality, throwing into relief fascinating instances of human self-awareness over the past three hundred years.

Highball, Lawrence Treadwell, 2022-06-30 Highball is an old signal from the train conductor to engineer that the train was clear to start from its stop and proceed at speed. Two green balls, one above the other, were the visual signal. Railroads were running long before motion pictures. Soon after silent movies were invented, directors liked trains in their films as railroading became an important business for America: passengers and freight trains. From the beginning, Hollywood loved trains. In the book are over 450 films with the title, the year, distributed, director, cast, producer, distributor, and an overview which set forth the key train link. Hollywood produced all sort type of films: comedy, mystery, drama, Western, war, adventure, crime, construction, musical, and epic, with combinations of genre. Every film in the book has a railroad link or connection of some sort which makes this a stand-alone edition. Movies included begin in the Silent Era, 1920s, and continue to the present day. The Hollywood Golden Age through World War II produced great films and continued using different techniques and emphasis. Dangerous cargoes, revivals, scenarios, and technology reflect the extraordinary genius of moviemakers today. With jet aircraft, passenger train travel declined to the extent that passenger trains became too expensive for America's railroads to operate. In 1971 Congress created Amtrak, a quasi public corporation the National Railroad Passenger Corporation Freight continued with the railroads which today consist of five major train class I companies CSX NS Norfolk Southern BNSF Burlington and Santa Fe UP Union Pacific and KCS Kansas City Southern Canadian Pacific CP operates both passenger and freight trains Movies produced overseas are included with the United Kingdom being a large contributor to the book The reference book is a must for all railroaders and movie lovers to recall their favorites and to see movies that they missed All aboard Perlmann's Silence Pascal
