The Art of Artificial Evolution Juan J. Romero, Penousal Machado, 2007-11-13 Art is the Queen of all sciences communicating knowledge to all the generations of the world Leonardo da Vinci Artistic behavior is one of the most valued qualities of the human mind Although artistic manifestations vary from culture to culture dedication to artistic tasks is common to all In other words artistic behavior is a universal trait of the human species The current Western definition of art is relatively new However a dedication to artistic endeavors such as the embellishment of tools body ornamentation or gathering of unusual arguably aesthetic objects can be traced back to the origins of humanity That is art is ever present in human history and prehistory Art and sciences share along and during relationship The best known example of the exploration of this relationship is probably the work of Leonardo da Vinci Somewhere in the 19th century art and science grew apart but the cross transfer of concepts between the two domains continued to exist Currently albeit the need for specialization there is a growing interest in the exploration of the connections between art and science Focusing on computer science it is interesting to notice that early pioneers of this discipline such as Ada Byron and Alan Turing showed an interest in using computational devices for art making purposes Oddly in spite of this early interest and the ubiquity of art it has received relatively little attention from the computer science community in general and more surprisingly from the artificial intelligence community autonomous off grid remote power applications both for thermodynamic optimization and smart micro grid optimization for distributed energy resources DER The correct resolution of this load following multi objective optimization problem is a complex task because of the high number and multi dimensional variables the cross correlation and interdependency between the energy streams as well as the non linearity in the performance of some of the system components Exergy based control approaches for smartgrid topologies are considered in terms of the intelligence behind the safe and reliable operation of a microgrid in an automated system that can manage energy flow in electrical as well as thermal energy systems The standalone micro grid solution would be suitable for a rural village intelligent building district energy system campus power shopping mall centre isolated network eco estate or remote island application setting where self generation and decentralized energy system concepts play a role Discrete digital simulation models for the thermodynamic and active demand side management systems with digital smartgrid control unit to optimize the system energy management is currently under development Parametric simulation models for this trigeneration system polygeneration poligeneration quadgeneration are developed on the Matlab Simulink and TrnSys platforms In terms of model predictive coding strategies the automation controller will perform multi objective cost optimization for energy management on a microgrid level by managing the generation and storage of electrical heat and cooling energies in layers Each layer has its own set of smart microgrid priorities associated with user demand side cycle predictions Mixed Integer Linear Programming and Neural network algorithms are being modeled to perform Multi Objective Control optimization as potential optimization and adaptive learning techniques
