Noncognitivism in Ethics Mark Schroeder, 2010-04-05 According to noncognitivists when we say that stealing is wrong what we are doing is more like venting our feelings about stealing or encouraging one another not to steal than like stating facts about morality These ideas challenge the core not only of much thinking about morality and metaethics but also of much philosophical thought about language and meaning Noncognitivism in Ethics is an outstanding introduction to these theories ranging from their early history through the latest contemporary developments Beginning with a general introduction to metaethics Mark Schroeder introduces and assesses three principal kinds of noncognitivist theory the speech act theories of Ayer Stevenson and Hare the expressivist theories of Blackburn and Gibbard and hybrid theories He pays particular attention both to the philosophical problems about what moral facts could be about or how they could matter which noncognitivism seeks to solve and to the deep problems that it faces including the task of explaining both the nature of moral thought and the complexity of moral attitudes and the Frege Geach problem Schroeder makes even the most difficult material accessible by offering crucial background along the way Also included are exercises at the end of each chapter chapter summaries and a glossary of technical terms making Noncognitivism in Ethics essential reading for all students of ethics and metaethics

Modern Challenges to Past Philosophy Thomas D. Sullivan, Russell Pannier, 2014-02-27 Does philosophy have a timeless essence Are the writings that have come down to us over the centuries from philosophers of genius mere souvenirs from a bygone era Or are their thoughts still eminently worth examining with care Modern Challenges to Past Philosophy argues pondering past philosophy with modern problems in mind is worth the effort even though earlier works are uninformed by modern science and lack some of tools of modern analysis The great texts defamiliarize our world and offer solutions to crucial questions often forgotten as we fixate on current philosophical trends Modern Challenges is no appeal to a return to a golden past but a study designed to show how and why understanding earlier works of some of the most penetrating minds ever to ponder eternally valid questions can contribute to a renewal of our own culture summaries glossary Inductive Metaphysics Andreas Hüttemann, Gerhard Schurz, 2025-08-26 Inductive Metaphysics IM is a comparatively new branch of metaphysics that justifies metaphysical principles by inductive or abductive inferences from empirical evidence rather than by purely logico conceptual considerations This is the first volume to provide a representative picture of current research and debates in this branch of metaphysics Metaphysics was traditionally conceived as a purely conceptual a priori enterprise Besides the traditional view there has always been the opposite view of metaphysics as an a posteriori discipline but it was not until the 19th century that an a posteriori understanding of metaphysics was turned into a philosophical program entitled Inductive Metaphysics The program of IM argues that premises in metaphysical arguments should rely on empirical data and that inductive and abductive inferences are legitimate methods in metaphysics This volume explores IM as a continuously expanding and highly topical field of metaphysics with contributions in virtually all domains of the discipline The chapters are divided into six thematic sections It starts with a section on the increasing role of IM in the history of philosophy and in contemporary philosophy The next section addresses the central role of the method of abduction for IM followed by a section on the relation of IM to metaphysical accounts of grounding explanation and evidence and a section on IM and the formation of concepts The last two sections cover the applications of IM in physics and in the life sciences Inductive Metaphysics will appeal to scholars and graduate students working in metaphysics philosophy of science epistemology logic and cognitive science The Open Access version of this book available at www.taylorfrancis.com has been made available under a Creative Commons Attribution ShareAlike CC BY SA 4.0 International license Funded by DFG research unit FOR 2495 project number SCHU 1566/13-1 and Heinrich Heine Universität Düsseldorf Open Access Fund
