The Digital Silk Road Jonathan E. Hillman, 2021-10-14 One of the most interesting and original thinkers about the rise of China Peter Frankopan A Foreign Affairs Best Book of 2022 A Guardian Best Paperback of July 2022 Its vast infrastructure projects now extend from the ocean floor to outer space and from Africa's megacities into rural America China is wiring the world and in doing so rewriting the global order As things stand the rest of the world still has a choice But the battle for tomorrow will require America and its allies to take daring risks in uncertain political terrain Unchecked China will reshape global flows of data to reflect its own interests and the lives of countless individuals enmeshed in its systems Taking readers on a global tour of these emerging battlefields Jonathan E Hillman reveals what China's digital footprint looks like on the ground and explores the dangers of a world in which all routers lead to Beijing

A History of Victims of Crime Stephen Strauss-Walsh, 2023-05-19 This book examines the evolution of the contemporary crime victim's procedural place within modern Western societies Taking the history of the Irish crime victim as a case study the work charts the place of victims within criminal justice over time This evolves from the expansive latitude that they had during the eighteenth century to their major relegation to witness and informer in the nineteenth and back to a more contemporary recapturing of some of their previous centrality The book also studies what this has meant for the position of suspects and offenders as well as the population more generally Therefore some analysis is devoted to examining its impact on an offender's right to fair trial and social forms It is held that the modern crime victim has transcended its position of marginality This happened not only in law but as the consequence of the victim's new role as a key sociopolitical stakeholder This work flags the importance of victim rights conferrals and the social transformations that engendered such trends In this way victim re emergence is evidenced as being not just a legal change but a consequence of several more recent sociocultural transformations in our societies The book will be of interest to researchers academics and policy makers in criminal law human rights law criminology and legal history

Ageing, Gender and Family Law Beverley Clough, Jonathan Herring, 2018-03-19 This book explores the intersecting issues relating the phenomenon of ageing to gender and family law The latter has tended to focus mainly on family life in young and middle age and indeed the issues of childhood and parenting are key in many family law texts Family life for older members has then been largely neglected addressing this neglect the current volume explores how the issues which might be important for younger people are not necessarily the same as those for older people The significance of family the nature of family life and the understanding of self in terms of one's relationships tend to change over the life course For example the state may play an increasing role in the lives of older people as access to services involvement in work and the community the ability to live independently and to form or maintain caring relationships are all impacted by law and policy This collection therefore challenges the standard models of family life and family law that have been developed within a child parent centred paradigm and which may require rethinking in the turn to family life in old age Interdisciplinary in its scope and orientation this book will appeal not just to academic family lawyers and students interested in issues around family law ageing gender and care but also to sociologists and ethicists working in these areas

Home Equity and Ageing Owners Lorna Fox O'Mahony, 2012-01-06 The growing use of housing equity to support a range of activities and needs raises complex issues particularly for older owners In an environment in which older owners are pushed towards housing equity transactions to meet income and welfare costs they are required to make choices from a complex and sometimes bewildering range of options The transactions which facilitate the use of home equity as a resource to spend in later life from trading down and ordinary secured and unsecured debt to targeted products including reverse lifetime mortgages home reversion plans and sale and rentback agreements raise important legal and regulatory issues This book provides a contextual analysis of the financial transactions that older people enter into using their housing equity It traces the protections afforded to older owners through the ordinary law of property and contract as well as the development of specific regulatory protections focused on targeted products The book employs the notion of risk to highlight the nature and causes of the situational vulnerabilities to which older people are now subject as consumers of housing equity showing that the older owner's personal situation is crucial in determining whether and why they may seek to release equity the options and products available to them and the impact of harms resulting from adverse transactions The book critically evaluates the extent to which this context is incorporated in the legal frameworks through which these transactions are governed as a measure of the appropriateness of existing legal provision as well as considering the arguments surrounding special protection for older owners in housing equity transactions
