Psyche Inventions De L Autre Collection La Philosophie En Effet:

Jacques Derrida's Aporetic Ethics Marko Zlomislíć, 2007-01-01 Derrida has been interpreted as a nihilist and relativist. This study demonstrates that he has an ethics and a concern for religion that goes beyond the structures of the philosophical tradition.

Cross and Khorá Marko Zlomislíć, Neal DeRoo, 2010-01-01 This volume poses the question of the relationship between the two main influences on the thought of John D. Caputo: one of the most well-known philosophers of religion working in North America today, Jacques Derrida, and Jesus Christ. Given the seemingly abstract character of Derrida's account of the messianic, how can one reconcile deconstruction and the concrete messianism of Christianity as Caputo tries to do over and over again? How can one hold together the love of a God willing to be crucified and the dry desert khora which doesn't care? This collection of essays from the world-renowned scholars seeks to illuminate the difficulties inherent in this seemingly contradictory pair of influences. With his trademark wit and humor, Caputo responds to his interlocutors while clarifying his position on numerous matters of interest to the church and in the academy. In addition to dealing with the concern for issues of hermeneutics, phenomenology, and negative theology for which Caputo has become famous, these essays also evaluate Caputo's legacy in fields previously not thought to be affected by his deconstructive version of religion: feminism, sacramental theology, analytic philosophy of religion, and Christology.

Marko Zlomislíć is a professor of philosophy at Conestoga College Institute of Technology and Advanced Learning, Kitchener, Ontario. Neal DeRoo teaches in the philosophy department at Brock University, St. Catharines, Ontario.

Music, Philosophy and Gender in Nancy, Lacoue-Labarthe, Badiou Sarah Hickmott, 2020-07-06 What counts as music for contemporary thinkers? Why is music of use to philosophers, and how do they use it in their work? How do philosophers decide what music is, and what assumptions are uncritically inherited in this move? And what is the philosophical relationship between music and gender? To answer these questions, Sarah Hickmott looks at the way music is used, characterised, and understood in the work of Jean-Luc Nancy, Philippe Lacoue-Labarthe, and Alain Badiou. Despite the differences in their philosophical theoretical positions, all of these writers invoke music both directly and indirectly to negotiate their relationship to ontology, politics, ethics, and aesthetics. Given a longer philosophical history dating back at least to Plato of aligning music with the feminine, she also focuses on the way gender is deployed, understood, and constructed within the philosophy of music.

Stratégies de l'illisible Ricard Ripoll, 2021-03-25 L'illisible est constitutif de toute écriture voulant jouer le pouvoir du commercial et celui des modes, toute littérature qui se pense comme geste authentique de révolte contre la doxa et toutes les idéologies de l'Unique. Et en même temps.
