Pawprints Of Katrina Pets Saved And Lessons Learned:

Pawprints of Katrina Cathy Scott, 2010-06-15 In the aftermath of Hurricane Katrina many animals had to fend for themselves because their owners lost them or were unable to care for them In Pawprints of Katrina Pets Saved and Lessons Learned Cathy Scott documents her experience working with the Best Friends Animal Society triage center to rescue lost animals and reunite them with their owners Over two hundred stories with accompanying photos describe dramatic and challenging rescue cases with details about the rescues the examinations treatment and follow up care by the selfless volunteers who worked to save beloved best friends

Citizen Canine David Grimm, 2014-04-08 Dogs are getting lawyers Cats are getting kidney transplants Could they one day be fellow citizens Cats and dogs were once wild animals Today they are family members and surrogate children A little over a century ago pets didn't warrant the meager legal status of property Now they have more rights and protections than any other animal in the country Some say they're even on the verge of becoming legal persons How did we get here and what happens next In this fascinating exploration of the changing status of dogs and cats in society pet lover and award winning journalist David Grimm explores the rich and surprising history of our favorite companion animals He treks the long and often torturous path from their wild origins to their dark days in the middle ages to their current standing as the most valued animals on Earth As he travels across the country riding along with Los Angeles detectives as they investigate animal cruelty cases touring the devastation of New Orleans in search of the orphaned pets of Hurricane Katrina and coming face to face with wolves and feral cats Grimm reveals the changing social attitudes that have turned pets into family members and the remarkable laws and court cases that have elevated them to quasi citizens The journey to citizenship isn't a smooth one however As Grimm finds there's plenty of opposition to the rising status of cats and dogs From scientists and farmers worried that our affection for pets could spill over to livestock and lab rats to philosophers who say the only way to save society is to wipe cats and dogs from the face of the earth the battle lines are being drawn We are entering a new age of pets one that is fundamentally transforming our relationship with these animals and reshaping the very fabric of society For pet lovers or anyone interested in how we decide who gets to be a person in today's world Citizen Canine is a must read It is a pet book like no other

Pet Politics Susan Hunter, Richard A. Brisbin, 2016-02-15 Although scholars in the disciplines of law psychology philosophy and sociology have published a considerable number of prescriptive normative and theoretical studies of animals in society Pet Politics presents the first study of the development of companion animal or pet law and policy in Canada and the United States by political scientists The authors examine how people and governments classify three species of pets or companion animals cats dogs and horses for various degrees of legal protection They then detail how interest groups shape the agenda for companion animal legislation and regulation and the legislative and administrative formulation of anticruelty kennel licensing horse slaughter feral and roaming cat and breed ban policies Finally they examine the enforcement of these laws and policies by agencies and the courts Using an eclectic mix of original empirical data original case studies and interviews and relying on general theories and research about the policy process and the sociopolitical function of legality the authors illustrate that pet policy is a unique field of political struggle a conflict that originates from differing perspectives about whether pets are property or autonomous beings and clashing norms about the care of animals The result of the political struggle the authors argue is difficulty in the enactment of policies and especially in the implementation and enforcement of laws that might improve the welfare of companion animals

Animal Places Jacob Bull,Tora Holmberg,Cecilia Åsberg,2017-11-22 Nonhuman animals are ubiquitous to our human societies Interdisciplinary human animal research has for 50 years drawn attention to how animals are ever present in what we think of as human spaces and cultures Our societies are built with animals and through all kinds of multispecies interactions From public spaces and laboratories to homes farms and in the wilderness human and nonhuman animals meet to make space and place together through webs of power relations However the very spaces of these interactions are not mute or passive themselves The spaces where species meet matter and shape human animal relations This book takes as its starting point the relationship between place and human animal interaction It brings together the work of leading scholars in human animal studies from a variety of disciplinary and interdisciplinary backgrounds With a distinct focus on place physical space and biocultural geography the authors of this volume consider the ways in which space human and nonhuman animals co constitute each other how they make spaces together produce meaning around them struggle over access how these places are storied and how stories of spaces matter Presenting studies thematically and including a variety of nonhuman creatures in a range of settings this book delivers new understandings of the importance of nonhuman animals to understandings of place and the role of places in shaping our interactions with nonhuman creatures As pets as laboratory animals as exhibits as parasites as livestock as quarry as victims of disaster or objects of folklore this book offers insights into human animal intermingling at locales and settings of great relevance to many areas of research including geography sociology science and technology studies gender studies history and anthropology This book meets the evolving interest in human animal interaction anthrozoology and the environmental humanities in relation to the research on space and place that currently informs the humanities and the social sciences

Disaster Relief Hayley Mitchell Haugen,Bruce Elkins,2009-09-11 This collection of essays explores the issues surrounding disaster relief Readers are presented with a diversity of opinion on the topic including both conservative and liberal points of view in an even balance Readers will evaluate disaster relief systems and whether the government should be in charge of disaster relief They will examine the effectiveness of FEMA and whether it needs better operations management Has American disaster relief improved since Hurricane Katrina Does the UN's humanitarian relief efforts need oversight How do we make sure that pets are not forgotten during natural disasters These questions and more are answered through this collection of compelling articles

Thomas E. Drabek, 2013-03-01 Since the first edition of The Human Side of Disaster was published in 2009 new catastrophes have plagued the globe including earthquakes in Haiti and New Zealand tornadoes in Alabama and Missouri floods in numerous locations Hurricane Sandy and the infamous BP oil spill Enhanced with new cases and real world examples The Human Side of Disaster Second Edition presents an updated summary of the social science knowledge base of human responses to disaster Dr Drabek draws upon his 40 plus years of conducting research on individual group and organizational responses to disaster to illustrate and integrate key insights from the social sciences to teach us how to anticipate human behaviors in crisis The book begins with a series of original short stories rooted within actual disaster events These stories are woven into the entire text to demonstrate essential findings from the research literature Dr Drabek provides an overview of the range of disasters and hazards confronting the public and an explanation of why these are increasing each year both in number and scope of impact The core of the book is a summary of key findings regarding disaster warning responses evacuation behavior initial post impact survival behavior traditional and emergent roles of volunteers and both short term and longer term disaster impacts The theme of organized disorganization is used to illustrate multiorganizational response networks that form the key managerial task for local emergency managers The final chapter provides a new vision for the emergency management profession one that reflects a more strategic approach wherein disasters are viewed as non routine social problems This book will continue to be an invaluable reference for professionals and students in emergency management and public policy and aid organizations who need to understand human behavior and how best to communicate and work with the public in disaster situations

Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters Katie E. Cherry, 2009-07-09 Some of our most disturbing images of Hurricane Katrina involve the very old trapped in flooded nursing homes and the very young sick in toxic trailers Using the Katrina Rita nexus as its reference point Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters takes the developmental long view on human strengths and vulnerabilities during large scale devastation and crisis An expert panel of behavioral scientists and first responders analyzes the psychological impact of natural disasters on and coping faculties associated with children adolescents and young middle aged older young old and late life oldest old adults This timely information is invaluable both to mental health service providers and to those tasked with developing age appropriate disaster preparedness intervention and recovery programs In addition the book references other deadly storms as well as other major catastrophic events e g the September 11 attacks the Indian Ocean Tsunami and includes such topics as Young children s understanding of hurricanes Positive adjustment in youth after Katrina How families make meaning out of disaster Disaster recovery in the workplace Recovery services for the frail elderly Coping and health in late life Preparation and training mental health personnel for disasters Unique in the disaster literature Lifespan Perspectives on Natural Disasters serves as a research reference and idea book for professionals and graduate level students in psychology social work and disaster preparedness and services

Animals and Ourselves Kathy Merlock Jackson, Kathy Shepherd Stolley, Lisa Lyon

Payne,2020-09-25 The relationship between humans and animals has always been strong symbiotic and complicated Animals real and fictional have been a mainstay in the arts and entertainment figuring prominently in literature film television social media and live performances Increasingly though people are anthropomorphizing animals assigning them humanoid roles tasks and identities At the same time humans such as members of the furry culture or college mascots find pleasure in adopting animal identities and characteristics This book is the first of its kind to explore these growing phenomena across media The contributors to this collection represent various disciplines to include the arts humanities social sciences and healthcare Their essays demonstrate the various ways that human and animal lives are intertwined and constantly evolving
