Manuscripts in the Library of Pembroke College, Cambridge and the Fitzwilliam Museum Kari Anne Rand, 2006 The Index of Middle English Prose when completed will be a monumental achievement REVIEW OF ENGLISH STUDIES Two very different collections are surveyed in this volume The manuscripts of Pembroke College Cambridge are typical of a medieval foundation Its core of books is a working library of that period representing the interests and needs of its Fellows very often given or bequeathed by them to the College The collection was substantially enlarged in 1599 through the gift by William Smart of Ipswich of a large number of manuscripts which until the Reformation had belonged to the Abbey of Bury St Edmunds By contrast the emphasis of the Fitzwilliam Museum collection is to a great extent art historical At its heart are the manuscripts bequeathed by Lord Fitzwilliam in 1816 These were supplemented throughout the 19th century by a series of gifts and bequests culminating in 1904 in the largest bequest to date from Frank McClean of some 203 manuscripts In spite of the different character of the two collections both contain a range of Middle English prose items among them Chaucer's Boece a complete Wycliffite sermon cycle and several Paston letters all from Pembroke the Anlaby Cartulary the Canutus pestilence tract the Brut Lydgate's Serpent of Division and Nicholas Love's Mirror of the Blessed Life of Jesus Christ from the Fitzwilliam KARI ANNE RAND is Professor of Older English Literature at the University of Oslo

The Mortal Voice in the Tragedies of Aeschylus Sarah Nooter, 2017-10-26 Voice connects our embodied existence with the theoretical worlds we construct This book argues that the voice is a crucial element of mortal identity in the tragedies of Aeschylus It first presents conceptions of the voice in ancient Greek poetry and philosophy understanding it in its most literal and physical form as well as through the many metaphorical connotations that spring from it Close readings then show how the tragedies and fragments of Aeschylus gain meaning from the rubric and performance of voice concentrating particularly on the Oresteia Sarah Nooter demonstrates how voice as both a bottomless metaphor and performative agent of action stands as the prevailing configuration through which Aeschylus dramas should be heard This highly original book will interest all those interested in classical literature as well as those concerned with material approaches to the interpretation of texts
