Visualizing Sensuous Suffering and Affective Pain in Early Modern Europe and the Spanish Americas, 2018-01-03
Visualizing Sensuous Suffering and Affective Pain in Early Modern Europe and the Spanish Americas is a trans cultural collection of studies on visual treatments of the phenomena of suffering and pain in early modern culture Ranging geographically from Italy Spain and the Low Countries to Chile Mexico and the Philippines and chronologically from the fourteenth to the eighteenth centuries these studies variously consider pain and suffering as somatic emotional and psychological experiences From examination of bodies shown victimized by brutal public torture to the sublimation of physical suffering conveyed through the incised lines of Counter Reformation engravings the authors consider depictions of pain and suffering as conduits to the divine or as guides to social behaviour indeed often the two functions overlap

Mosaics Martin Cheek, 1997 Over 35 projects and ideas for indoor and outdoor mosaics including frames pots boxes paving stones and a splashback Cover Supernatural beings from Slovenian myth and folktales Monika Kropelj, 2012-01-01 Focusing on Slovenian mythology the book contains a review of Slovenian mythological historical and narrative material Over 150 supernatural beings are presented both lexically and according to the role that they have in Slovenian folklore They are classified by type characteristic features and by the message conveyed in their motifs and contents The material has been analysed in the context of European and some non European mythological concepts and the author deals with theory and interpretations as well as the conclusions of domestic and foreign researchers The book forms new starting points and a classification of supernatural beings within a frame of a number of sources some of which have been published for the first time in this book Arts of the Chou Dynasty Stanford University. Committee for Art, Stanford University. Museum of Art, 1958

In the Eye of the Beholder: The Evolutionary Emergence of Visual Communication Iain Davidson, 2025-08-07 The book is about how art arose and how it became what we call art today How did art emerge from the relationships between people and the things they produce and the ideas of producers How do people manipulate those relationships in their own society How do outsiders work out the ways in which those relationships were used to make art What is art and why are all people engaged with it in one way or another From its very beginning and everywhere art has always been embedded in its cultural context the contexts of the people who made and see it and that context has often been ritual The history of art confused social and institutional changes of view because western critics or artists sought to define the boundaries of art so tightly that ritual purposeful or utilitarian works were excluded from it In their definition art only existed if the rituals of the original producers were stripped from the works or if the objects were appropriated away from the situation in which they were produced The objects stripped from their context could then only be valued for their aesthetics Art consists of relationships between people things and ideas in quite specific ways Those relationships are discussed at length in this book The book is aimed at artists art historians and archaeologists but also at the general public interested in art It is intended both for people whose interest in art comes from knowledge of the art of all continents and for those who have no knowledge

Liechtenstein, the Princely Collections Metropolitan Museum of Art (New York, N.Y.), Sammlungen des Regierenden Fürsten von Liechtenstein, 1985 Liechtenstein is one of the smallest European states a principality situated between Austria and Switzerland in the Upper Rhine Valley The nation is less than three hundred years old but the ruling family whose name it bears traces its lineage back to the twelfth century For successive generations members of the Princely House of Liechtenstein have been devoted art collectors With a high degree of appreciation of artistic achievement they have pursued a centuries long family tradition of acquiring not only great paintings and sculpture but also rare firearms fine porcelain and other works of art The result of this tradition is a collection of masterpieces that in its depth and breadth reflects more than four hundred years of European history and ranks among the world s greatest private collections This publication accompanies an exhibition at The Metropolitan Museum of Art that marked the first time the masterpieces from this private collection were put on public display The rich and varied array of paintings sculpture and other works included in this exhibition not only represents the paradigm of a great European princely collection but also has the added distinction of being the collection of the only surviving monarchy of the Holy Roman Empire Metropolitan Museum of Art website
