attention turned from North Africa to the German Italian forces in North Africa were able to hold their ground and even receive reinforcements in the form of Rommel's Afrika Korps. Wavell's despatches detail all of these campaigns up to July 1941 when he was superseded by General Claude Auchinleck. The Auk had to deal with the Anglo-Free French invasion of Syria and Lebanon and the nationalist uprising in Iraq. His main concern though was with stopping Rommel's advances through Libya. The Axis forces were eventually held close to the border of Egypt at El Alamein. It was as far as Rommel would go and it marked the end of the long run of Axis successes in North Africa. The despatches presented here form a unique collection of original reports from the commanding officers in this widespread and difficult region. This is the first time these documents have been brought together in a single volume. Allied Armies in Sicily and Italy, 1943-1945 Simon Forty, 2020-03-30. The Italian campaign was one of the most debated of the Second World War, splitting the American and British allies and causing great disharmony. After the fall of Rome and the surrender of Italy, the invasion of Normandy led to the Italian campaign becoming a sideshow as the D-Day Dodgers fought their way through Italy to the Alps against a grinding defence and extreme weather. In a sequence of 200 wartime photographs, Simon Forty sums up the major events of the conflict from the landings on Sicily to the crossing of the Po. Commanded first by Sir Harold Alexander and then Mark Clark, the Allied armies, US Fifth and British Eighth, drew men not only from Britain, the United States, France and Poland but from all over the Commonwealth, from Australia, Canada, India, New Zealand and South Africa as well as such other countries as Brazil, Czechoslovakia, Greece and Palestine. The devastation caused by the war in the cities, towns and countryside is part of the story but perhaps the most powerful impression is made by the faces of the soldiers themselves as they look out from the Italian front of so long ago.

On Afghanistan's Plains Allan Mallinson, 2025-06-30. On Afghanistan's Plains tells the story of four gruelling tours of duty during Operation Herrick, the codename under which British operations in Afghanistan were conducted from 2002 until 2014 when the mission changed from direct combat with the Taliban to one of mentoring Afghan forces. Allan Mallinson, military historian and former Light Dragoons officer, explains Operation Herrick's complex historical and strategic background and describes the evolving tactical thinking in this multi-national NATO-led campaign. Almost from the start, The Light Dragoons, a small tight-knit family regiment recruiting in Yorkshire and the north-east of England, were in action in Helmand Province, the principal British area of operations. As an armoured reconnaissance regiment, they played a leading role in Operation Panther's Claw, the month-long battle in the searing summer heat of 2012 which saw much hard fighting and many casualties and proved to be a turning point in the campaign. On Afghanistan's Plains describes what it was like to be in Helmand on foot or cooped up in an armoured vehicle fighting the Taliban. NATO's commander in chief in Afghanistan in later years, US General Stanley McChrystal, paid The Light Dragoons the greatest compliment: "When I looked into their eyes which were bloodshot with fatigue, I remember the extraordinary professionalism, competence and the sheer courage of those young men."
