Royal Manuscripts The Genius Of Illumination:

Royal Manuscripts Scot McKendrick, Kathleen Doyle, John Lowden, British Library, 2011 Illuminated manuscripts collected by successive kings and queens of England form the heart of a unique and visually stunning collection held by the British Library A key figure in the formation of this collection was King Edward IV 1461-83 who commissioned a number of luxury manuscripts decorated with his arms Subsequent monarchs added to this library which was given to the nation by George II in 1757 Over 150 examples from this exceptional collection are presented in this catalog which accompanies a major British Library exhibition of the same name These manuscripts contain paintings produced by some of the finest artists of the Middle Ages Highlights include the Book of Hours made for Henry VIII's great grandmother Margaret Beauchamp of an itinerary from London to Apulia and to the Holy Land and the Shrewsbury book presented to Margaret of Anjou on her marriage to Henry VI in 1445 The catalog features full page illustrations from each manuscript included in the exhibition as well as three illustrated essays which explore the wider history and context of this unique collection Written by the curators of the exhibition along with contributions from several experts in the field Royal Manuscripts will be a much heralded event for scholars and collectors seeking to better understand the lives and aspirations of those for whom these stunning artifacts were made

Royal Illuminated Manuscripts, 2011 Royal manuscripts the genius of illumination is the British Library's first major exhibition to bring together the Library's Royal collection a treasure trove of illuminated manuscripts collected by the kings and queens of England between the 9th and 16th centuries This dazzling exhibition will debunk the myth that these were the Dark Ages by showcasing beautiful artistic artefacts Curated by Dr Scot McKendrick Head of History and Classical Studies British Library Professor John Lowden Courtauld Institute of Art University of London and Dr Kathleen Doyle Curator of Illuminated Manuscripts British Library the exhibition features stunning manuscripts that are among the most outstanding examples of royal decorative and figurative painting from this era surviving in Britain today their colours often as vibrant as when they were first painted However the manuscripts do much more than declare the artistry of their makers the luxurious objects unlock the secrets of the private lives and public personae of the royals throughout the Middle Ages and provide the most vivid surviving source for understanding royal identity As well as providing clear instruction on appropriate regal behaviour they also give a direct insight into royal moral codes and religious belief and shed light on the politics of the day British Library website

Illuminated History Books in the Anglo-Norman World, 1066-1272 Laura Cleaver, 2018 Illuminated History Books in the Anglo-Norman World examines surviving medieval manuscripts from 1066 to 1272 and the people and processes involved in their creation It addresses the reception and circulation of histories and the different ways in which imagery and text could be used to create nuanced accounts of the past

The volume discusses the world as it was known in the Medieval and Early Modern periods focusing on projects concerned with mapping as a conceptual and artistic practice with visual representations of space and with destinations of real and fictive travel Maps were often taken as straightforward objective configurations However they expose deeply subjective frameworks with social political and economic significance Travel narratives whether illustrated or not can address similar frameworks Whereas travelled space is often adventurous and speaking of hardship strange encounters and danger city portraits tell a tale of civilized life and civic pride The book seeks to address the multiple ways in which maps and travel literature conceive of the world communicate a Weltbild depict space and or define knowledge The volume challenges academic boundaries in the study of cartography by exploring the links between mapmaking and artistic practices The contributions discuss individual mapmakers authors of travelogues mapmaking as an artistic practice the relationship between travel literature and mapmaking illustration in travel literature and imagination in depictions of newly explored worlds England and Bohemia in the Age of Chaucer Peter Brown, Jan Čermák, 2023 New essays examining Bohemia

as a key European context for understanding Chaucer s poetry Chaucer never went to Bohemia but Bohemia came to him when in 1382 King Richard II of England married Anne daughter of the Holy Roman Emperor Charles IV Charles s splendid court in Prague was renowned across Europe for its patronage of literature art and architecture and Anne and her entourage brought with them some of its glamour and allure their fashions extravagance and behaviour provoking comment from English chroniclers For Chaucer a poet and diplomat affiliated to Richard s court Anne was more muse than patron her influence embedded in a range of his works including the Parliament of Fowls Troilus and Criseyde the Legend of Good Women and Canterbury Tales This volume shows Bohemia to be a key European context alongside France and Italy for understanding Chaucer's poetry providing a wide perspective on the nature of cultural exchange between England and Bohemia in the later fourteenth century. The contributors consider such matters as court culture and politics, the writings of Richard Rolle, artistic style, Troy stories, historiographic writing and travel narrative; they highlight the debt Chaucer owed to Bohemian culture and the affinities between English and Bohemian literary production, whether in the use of Petrarch's tale of Griselda, the iconography of the tapster figure or satires on the Passion of Christ. Concerns and Preoccupations Linda Clark, 2012. A variety of new perspectives and fresh insights into people and society in 15th century England and France are gathered together in this book. Kingship and Masculinity in Late Medieval England Katherine Lewis, 2013-09-05. Kingship and Masculinity in Late Medieval England explores the dynamic between kingship and masculinity in fifteenth century England with a particular focus on Henry V and Henry VI. The role of gender in the rhetoric and practice of medieval kingship is still largely unexplored by medieval historians. Discourses of masculinity informed much of the contemporary comment on fifteenth century kings for a variety of purposes: to praise and eulogise but also to explain shortcomings and provide justification for deposition. Katherine J. Lewis examines discourses of masculinity in relation to contemporary understandings of the nature and acquisition of manhood in the period and considers the extent to which judgements of a king's performance were informed by his ability to embody the right balance of manly qualities. This book's primary concern is with how these two kings were presented, represented and perceived by those around them but it also asks how far Henry V and Henry VI can be said to have understood the importance of personifying a particular brand of masculinity in their performance of kingship and of meeting the expectations of their subjects in this respect. It explores the extent to which their established reputations as inherently manly and unmanly kings were the product of their handling of political circumstances but owed something to factors beyond their immediate control as well. Consideration is also given to Margaret of Anjou's manipulation of ideologies of kingship and manhood in response to her husband's incapacity and the ramifications of this for perceptions of the relational gender identities which she and Henry VI embodied together. Kingship and Masculinity in Late Medieval England is an essential resource for students of gender and medieval history. Medieval Bestiaries, 2025-08-28. What could the phoenix, elephant and spider teach medieval people and what can they teach us now about human-animal relationships? Medieval Bestiaries: New Approaches offers innovative insights on questions previously unasked about a most popular type of illuminated manuscript whose animal pictures and stories continue to entertain and inspire. Bringing together an impressive range of multi-disciplinary expertise, the authors provide fresh perspectives on previously unpublished or under-explored bestiary texts, images, methods of production, cross-literary influences and moralized messaging. Most significantly, they move bestiaries out of their specialized scholarly corner into the wider world of animal thinking across Christian, Jewish and Islamic cultures and stake a claim for animals as a central meeting ground for medieval and modern sensibilities. Contributors are Emma Campbell, Marc M. Epstein, Erica Fudge, Larisa Grollemond, Rebecca Hill, Elizabeth Morrison, Julie Orlemanski.
