Mapungubwe, Ancient Bantu Civilization on the Limpopo: Reports on excavations at Mapungubwe (Northern Transvaal) from February 1933 to June 1935, edited by Leo Fouché University of Pretoria. Papers in African Prehistory J. D. Fage,R. A. Oliver,1970-10-01 Professor Fage and Professor Oliver the editors of this collection are distinguished historians of Africa and as founding editors of the Journal of African History they both established the journal and used it to mark out developing areas of the subject In directing the journal they have pursued an active policy of commissioning articles in fields where the literature was scanty and in this volume they have collected together some of the most important articles they have published on African prehistory It is designed for the student of African history and the library that needs copies of frequently consulted papers to supplement its sets of periodicals All the articles contain either accounts of important research or more general review articles The book is illustrated with line diagrams and photographs One article which originally appeared in French has been translated into English Picturing Change Brenda Schmahmann,2013-04-01 An in depth look at the evolving ethos of curating and collecting art at South African universities In Picturing Change Brenda Schmahmann explores the implications of deploying the visual domain in the service of transformative agendas and unpacks the complexities contradictions and slippages involved in this process She shows that although most new commissions have been innovative some universities have acquired works with potentially traditionalist even backward looking implications While the motives behind removing inherited imagery may be underpinned by a desire to unsettle white privilege in some cases such actions can also serve to maintain the status quo This book is unique in exploring the transformative ethos evident in the curation of visual culture at South African universities It will be invaluable to readers interested in public art the politics of curating and collecting as well as to those involved in transforming tertiary and other public institutions into spaces that welcome diversity Since South Africa s transition to democracy many universities have acquired new works of art that convey messages about the advantages of cultural diversity and engage critically with histories of racial intolerance and conflict Given concerns about the influence of British imperialism or Afrikaner nationalism on aspects of their inherited visual culture most tertiary institutions are also seeking new ways to manage their existing art collections and to introduce memorials insignia or regalia which reflect the universities newfound values and aspirations Botanical Exploration Southern Africa Mary Gunn,L. E. W. Codd,1981-06-01 This text gives biographical accounts of the leading plant collectors and their activities in Southern Africa from the days of the East India Company until modern times Explanation of the Geological Map of the Country South of Nuanetsi, Nuanetsi and Beitbridge Districts M. European exploration in the fifteenth Africa was at the center of a vibrant exchange of goods and ideas It was an African golden age in which places like Ghana Nubia and Zimbabwe became the crossroads of civilizations and where African royals thinkers and artists played celebrated roles in the globalized world of the Middle Ages Drawing on fragmented written sources as well as his many years of experience as an archaeologist the author reconstructs an African past that is too often denied its place in history He looks at ruined cities found in the mangrove exquisite pieces of art rare artifacts like the golden rhinoceros of Mapungubwe ancient maps and accounts left by geographers and travelers
