Non University Higher Education In Europe Higher Education Dynamics:

Non-University Higher Education in Europe James S. Taylor, José Brites Ferreira, Maria de Lourdes Machado, Rui Santiago, 2008-06-01 Today a substantial portion of higher education is provided outside of the traditional universities in non university institutions with a multitude of varied characteristics In recent decades higher education systems have been subjected to many changes and reforms throughout the world One of the most important was undoubtedly the expansion of higher education in the second half of the last century from an elite system to one for the masses While institutions of higher learning have been in existence for approximately 1 000 years this exponential growth has been much more recent This movement toward mass higher education has created substantial national impacts on the development of the systems of higher education While common denominators of change and adaptation can be identified globally there remain important differences from country to country There are many factors challenging higher education today and in the foreseeable future In one form or another these issues and trends can be seen in higher education systems throughout the world They include chronic underfunding marketisation and competition alternative providers massification internationalisation governance leadership strategic management accountability accreditation and social relevance Another key factor for many countries especially in Europe and the focus of this book is the current and future status of the higher education systems that differentiate the university and non university sectors

The Dynamics of Change in Higher Education Svein Kyvik, 2008-12-25 In most Western European countries higher education has to an increasing extent been developing outside universities partly through the establishment of new institutions and partly through the upgrading of professional and vocational schools into higher education colleges The main trend in countries with a binary system has been that student numbers have increased more in the college sector than in the university sector Yet there is a shortage of in depth studies on the changes that have taken place in this part of the educational system and on the processes that have driven this development The aim of this book is to improve our understanding of these processes through developing concepts and theoretical perspectives which might offer new insights of complex phenomena This book is based upon a large number of studies on college education in Norway and in other Western European countries I have studied change processes in this field over a period stretching back to the late 1970s Kyvik 1981 and this book synthesises my former publications as well as updates the development until August 2008 and presents new analyses based on my gradual attainment of deeper insight into the processes that have taken place

Education, Skills and Social Justice in a Polarising World Bill Esmond, Liz Atkins, 2022-01-25 This book explains how education policies offering improved transitions to work and higher level study can widen the gaps between successful and disadvantaged groups of young people Centred on an original study of ongoing further education and apprenticeship reforms in England the book traces the emergence of distinctive patterns of transition that magnify existing societal inequalities It illustrates the distinction between mainly male technical elites on STEM based courses and the preparation for low level service roles described as welfare vocationalism whilst digital and creative fields ill suited to industry learning head for a new economy precariat Yet the authors argue that social justice can nevertheless be advanced in the spaces between learning and work The book provides essential insights for academics and postgraduate students researching technical vocational and higher education It will also appeal to professionals with interests in contemporary educational policy and emerging practice

Higher Education in Portugal 1974-2009 Guy Neave, Alberto Amaral, 2011-12-20 A comprehensive wide ranging and detailed account of the unfolding of higher education and higher education policy in Portugal from 1974 to 2009 by leading policy makers and scholars with the explicit purpose of showing how different disciplinary canons and perspectives contribute to the study of higher education and higher education policy including Law and Science Policy perspectives Whilst focusing on one referential system this book deals with current policy issues emerging in the wake of the post Bologna period It also examines their long term historical origins in addition to the measures taken to address them The substantive chapters are preceded by a detailed Introductory overview that places the issues treated in this volume in a solidly European perspective and sets out explicitly the differences in the dominant political cultural and social values that set Portuguese as other Continental European systems of higher education apart from their Anglo Saxon counterparts

The Research Mission of Higher Education Institutions outside the University Sector Svein Kyvik, Benedetto Lepori, 2010-06-08 Even if in most countries non university higher education institutions did not have originally a research mandate it is well known that in most cases these institutions have progressively developed research activities and at least in some countries the State

now has recognized the research role of these institutions and provided support and funding Moreover in many countries the role of research in polytechnics fachhochschulen hogescholen university colleges etc is on the political agenda Despite the importance of the issue there are very few in depth studies of research in the non university sector These studies show that the development of research in these institutions leads to quite complex interactions with universities both in the sense of convergence academic drift and or of differentiation of a specific research mandate oriented towards the regional economy Therefore this book aims to fill this gap by first analysing a number of transversal issues related to the research mission of these institutions In its second part it gives an overview of the state of the art in eight European countries The

European Higher Education Area Adrian Curaj,Liviu Matei,Remus Pricopie,Jamil Salmi,Peter Scott,2015-10-12 Bridging the gap between higher education research and policy making was always a challenge but the recent calls for more evidence based policies have opened a window of unprecedented opportunity for researchers to bring more contributions to shaping the future of the European Higher Education Area EHEA Encouraged by the success of the 2011 first edition Romania and Armenia have organised a 2nd edition of the Future of Higher Education Bologna Process Researchers Conference FOHE BPRC in November 2014 with the support of the Italian Presidency of the European Union and as part of the official EHEA agenda Reuniting over 170 researchers from more than 30 countries the event was a forum to debate the trends and challenges faced by higher education today and look at the future of European cooperation in higher education The research volumes offer unique insights regarding the state of affairs of European higher education and research as well as forward looking policy proposals More than 50 articles focus on essential themes in higher education Internationalization of higher education Financing and governance Excellence and the diversification of missions Teaching learning and student engagement Equity and the social dimension of higher education Education research and innovation Quality assurance The impacts of the Bologna Process on the EHEA and beyond and Evidence based policies in higher education The Bologna process was launched at a time of great optimism about the future of the European project to which of course the reform of higher education across the continent has made a major contribution Today for the present that optimism has faded as economic troubles have accumulated in the Euro zone political tensions have been increased on issues such as immigration and armed conflict has broken out in Ukraine There is clearly a risk that against this troubled background the Bologna process itself may falter There are already signs that it has been downgraded in some countries with evidence of political withdrawal All the more reason for the voice of higher education researchers to be heard Since the first conference they have established themselves as powerful stakeholders in the development of the EHEA who are helping to maintain the momentum of the Bologna process Their pivotal role has been strengthened by the second Bucharest conference Peter Scott Institute of Education London General Rapporteur of the FOHE BPRC first edition Professionalism, Managerialism and Reform in Higher Education and the Health Services Teresa Carvalho,Rui Santiago,2016-04-29 Over the past three decades professions across the European Union have faced significant and radical challenges This book analyses three professional groups involved in the academic and health sectors and how they are affected by different national Welfare State models such as Mediterranean Scandinavian and Anglo Saxon

European Integration and the Governance of Higher Education and Research Alberto Amaral, Guy Neave, Christine Musselin, Peter Maassen, 2009-10-03
