and the four other grandmothers living at Sanderling Cove decide with only two great grandchildren it's time to swing into action. They invite their grandchildren to spend the summer at the cove hoping to encourage romance between them. Ellie invites all three of her granddaughters to take over the management of the Sanderling Cove Inn so that she and her bridegroom can spend the time traveling in Europe for their honeymoon. Charlotte, Bradford, Olivia, Winters, and Brooke Weatherby are all at a point in their lives where they have the time to do as she asks. For Charlotte, it's an excuse to leave her marketing career and life in New York City. After realizing her partner was never going to step up and do her share of work, Livy has just sold her bakery store in Virginia. Brooke is more than eager to leave her job as an accountant in upstate New York and more importantly escape the lonely life of keeping an eye on her mother who suffers from fibromyalgia and depression. When Shane Ensley is sailing with Charlotte and another cove kid, Eric Simon, the boom knocks him into the water unconscious. When Charlotte rescues him, it changes everything for them. And starts the summer exactly as the grandmothers had hoped. Grandmothers can be very determined when it comes to seeing their grandchildren happy. A family saga full of love. Be sure to read all the books in the series: Waves of Hope, Sandy Wishes, Salty Kisses. Another of Judith Keim's series books celebrating love and families, strong women meeting challenges, and clean women's fiction with a touch of romance. Beach reads for all ages with a touch of humor, satisfying twists, and happy endings. Be sure to check out her other delightful books and series that readers adore.

Digital Youth, Innovation, and the Unexpected Tara McPherson, 2008. How emergent practices and developments in young people's digital media can result in technological innovation or lead to unintended learning experiences and unanticipated social encounters. Young people's use of digital media may result in various innovations and unexpected outcomes from the use of videogame technologies to create films to the effect of home digital media on family life. This volume examines the core issues that arise when digital media use results in unintended learning experiences and unanticipated social encounters. The contributors examine the complex mix of emergent practices and developments online and elsewhere that empower young users to function as drivers of technological change, recognizing that these new technologies are embedded in larger social systems: school, family, friends. The chapters consider such topics as: un-equal access across economic, racial, and ethnic lines; media panics and social anxieties; policy and Internet protocols; media literacy; citizenship vs. consumption; creativity and collaboration; digital media and gender equity; shifting notions of temporality and defining the public-private divide. Contributors: Steve Anderson, Anne Balsamo, Justine Cassell, Meg Cramer, Robert A. Heverly, Paula K. Hooper, Sonia Livingstone, Henry Lowood, Robert Samuels, Christian Sandvig, Ellen Seiter, Sarita Yardi.

New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction Donald M. Hassler, Clyde Wilcox, 2008 This book offers an interpretation of the evolution of a growing genre in literary film and television As a follow up to their 1997 collection Political Science Fiction Hassler and Wilcox have assembled twenty four noted international scholars representing diverse fields of inquiry to assess the influential voices and trends from the past decade in New Boundaries in Political Science Fiction The terrors and technologies that permeate our daily lives have changed radically in the past decade further highlighting the underlying speculations on our contested future that remain the core of this genre In surveying the vast expanse of politically charged science fiction of recent years the editors posit that the defining dilemma for these tales rests in whether identity and meaning germinate from progressive linear changes or progress or from a continuous return to primitive realities of war death and the competition for survival The discussion of political implications ranges among writers from H G Wells Robert A Heinlein Ursula Le Guin and Isaac Asimov to more radical recent voices such as Iain M Banks William Gibson Joanna Russ Philip K Dick and China Mieville While emphasizing the literature the collection also addresses political science fiction found on film and television from the original Star Trek through the newest incarnation of Battlestar Galactica
