Nortel A Programming Guide For Administration:

Agent-Oriented Software Engineering V James Odell, Paolo Giorgini, Jörg, P. Müller, 2005-01-25 The explosive growth of application areas such as electronic commerce enterprise resource planning and mobile computing has profoundly and irreversibly changed our views on software systems Nowadays software is to be based on open architectures that continuously change and evolve to accommodate new components and meet new requirements Software must also operate on different platforms without recompilation and with minimal assumptions about its operating environment and its users Furthermore software must be robust and autonomous capable of serving a naive user with a minimum of overhead and interference Agent concepts hold great promise for responding to the new realities of software systems They offer higher level abstractions and mechanisms which address issues such as knowledge representation and reasoning communication coordination cooperation among heterogeneous and autonomous parties perception commitments goals beliefs and intentions all of which need conceptual modelling On the one hand the concrete implementation of these concepts can lead to advanced functionalities e.g. in inference based query answering transaction control adaptive workflows brokering and integration of disparate information sources and automated communication processes On the other hand their rich representational capabilities allow more faithful and flexible treatments of complex organizational processes leading to more effective requirements analysis and architectural detailed design

Middleware'98 Nigel Davies, Kerry Raymond, Jochen Seitz, 2012-12-06 Welcome to Middleware 98 and to one of England's most beautiful regions In recent years the distributed systems community has witnessed a growth in the number of conferences leading to difficulties in tracking the literature and a consequent loss of awareness of work done by others in this important field The aim of Middleware 98 is to synthesise many of the smaller workshops and conferences in this area bringing together research communities which were becoming fragmented The conference has been designed to maximise the experience for attendees This is reflected in the choice of a resort venue rather than a big city to ensure a strong focus on interaction with other distributed systems researchers The programme format incorporates a question and answer panel in each session enabling significant issues to be discussed in the context of related papers and presentations

The invited speakers and tutorials are intended to not only inform the attendees but also to stimulate discussion and debate
