World Yearbook of Education 2006 Jenny Ozga, Terri Seddon, Thomas S. Popkewitz, 2013-01-11

This volume considers the ways in which educational research is being shaped by policy across the globe. Policy effects on research are increasingly influential as policies in and beyond education drive the formation of a knowledge based economy by supporting increased international competitiveness through more effective evidence based interventions in schooling education and training systems. What consequences does this increased steering have for research in education? How do transnational agencies make their influence felt on educational research? How do national systems and traditions of educational research and relations with policy respond to these new pressures? What effects does it have on the quality of research and on the freedom of researchers to pursue their own agendas? The 2006 volume of the World Yearbook of Education explores these issues focusing on three key themes: globalising policy and research in education; steering education research in national contexts; global local politics of education research. The 2006 volume has a truly global reach incorporating transnational policy perspectives from the OECD and the European Commission alongside national cases from across the world in contrasting contexts that include North and South America, Canada, France, Singapore, China, Russia and New Zealand. The range of contributions reflect how pervasive these developments are, how much is new in this situation and to what extent evidence based policy pressures on research in education build on past relationships between education and policy. This book considers the impact of the steering processes on the work and identities of individual researchers and considers how research can be organised to play a more active role in the politics of the knowledge economy and learning society.

No More Teachers, No More Books Heather-jane Robertson, 1998. Heather Jane Robertson has been tracking the dismantling of public education in Canada for more than a decade. In No More Teachers, No More Books she reports on developments that will come as a shock to many people who may think that the commercialization of education is just a theory, not a reality.

Education, Immigration and Migration Khalid Arar, Jeffrey S. Brooks, Ira Bogotch, 2019-07-10. This edited volume investigates how the role of leadership in education in various countries from around the world have been designed and implemented through educational policies and national cultures to meet the needs of new displaced and mobile groups of migrants and refugees.

Adopting the Melody of Expression: An Mental Symphony within Praxis Sylvan Learning Center

In a world used by displays and the ceaseless chatter of quick interaction, the melodic elegance and psychological symphony produced by the written word frequently diminish into the back ground, eclipsed by the relentless sound and interruptions that permeate our lives. But, set within the pages of Praxis Sylvan Learning Center a wonderful fictional treasure overflowing with natural feelings, lies an immersive symphony waiting to be embraced. Crafted by a masterful composer of language, that interesting masterpiece conducts readers on a mental journey, well unraveling the hidden songs and profound impact resonating within each carefully constructed phrase. Within the depths of the emotional review, we will explore the book is main harmonies, analyze its enthralling publishing model, and surrender ourselves to the profound resonance that echoes in the depths of readers souls.
