Middle Passages African American Journeys To Africa 1787 2005:

Middle Passages James T. Campbell, 2007-04-24 Penguin announces a prestigious new series under presiding editor Arthur Schlesinger Jr. Many works of history deal with the journeys of blacks in bondage from Africa to the United States along the middle passage but there is also a rich and little examined history of African Americans traveling in the opposite direction. In Middle Passages award winning historian James T. Campbell vividly recounts more than two centuries of African American journeys to Africa including the experiences of such extraordinary figures as Langston Hughes, W. E. B. DuBois, Richard Wright, Malcolm X, and Maya Angelou. A truly groundbreaking work, Middle Passages offers a unique perspective on African Americans' ever evolving relationship with their ancestral homeland as well as their complex, often painful relationship with the United States.

The Making of African America Ira Berlin, 2010-01-21 A leading historian offers a sweeping new account of the African American experience over four centuries. Four great migrations defined the history of black people in America: the violent removal of Africans to the east coast of North America known as the Middle Passage; the relocation of one million slaves to the interior of the antebellum South; the movement of more than six million blacks to the industrial cities of the north and west a century later; and since the late 1960s, the arrival of black immigrants from Africa, the Caribbean, South America, and Europe. These epic migrations have made and remade African American life. Ira Berlin's magisterial new account of these passages evokes both the terrible price and the moving triumphs of a people forcibly and then willingly migrating to America. In effect, Berlin rewrites the master narrative of African America, challenging the traditional presentation of a linear path of progress. He finds instead a dynamic of change in which eras of deep rootedness alternate with eras of massive movement, tradition giving way to innovation. The culture of black America is constantly evolving, affected by and affecting places as far away from one another as Biloxi, Chicago, Kingston, and Lagos. Certain to garner widespread media attention, The Making of African America is a bold new account of a long and crucial chapter of American history.

Water and African American Memory Anissa J. Wardi, 2025-03-25 While there is no lack of scholarship on the trans Atlantic voyage and the Middle Passage as tropes in African diasporic writing to date, there has not been a comprehensive analysis of bodies of water in African American literature and culture. In Water and African American Memory, Anissa Wardi offers the first sustained treatise on watercourses in the African American expressive tradition. Her holistic approach especially highlights the ways that water acts not only as a metaphorical site of trauma, memory, and healing but also as a material site. Using the trans Atlantic voyage as a starting point and ending with a discussion of Hurricane Katrina, this pioneering ecocritical study delves deeply into the environmental dimension of African American writing. Beyond proposing a new theoretical map for conceptualizing the African Diaspora, Wardi offers a series of engaging and original close readings of major literary, filmic, and blues texts, including the works of Toni Morrison, Ntozake Shange, Julie Dash, Henry Dumas, and Kasi Lemmons.

New Directions in the Study of African American Recolonization Beverly

Tomek, Matthew J. Hetrick, 2022-10-18 Beginning in 1816 the American Colonization Society worked to send American blacks to resettle in Africa From inception however its foundational ethos has been debated These debates continued long after the effective end of the ACS during WWI through the Civil Rights movement to today when even historians among the Press s own authors respectfully hold opposing views In this volume Beverly Tomek and Matthew Hetrick gather essays from scholars with different opinions and divergent methodologies offering not only new research to address some of the old questions about American colonization and missionary activities but also new questions to spur further debate Race and

Transatlantic Identities Elizabeth Kenney, Sirpa Salenius, Whitney Womack Smith, 2018-10-11 Race and Transatlantic Identities provides a rich overview of the complex relationship between the construction of race and transatlantic identity as expressed in a variety of cultural forms refracted through different disciplinary and critical perspectives and manifested at different historical moments Spanning a period from the eighteenth to the twentieth century the contributions provide a panorama of the wealth and variety of contemporary approaches to grappling with notions of race in a transatlantic context raising questions about the permanence and fixity of racial boundaries The volume which focuses on the cultural sites where individuals construct and express their racial identities in the context of those boundaries also explores strategies through which those boundaries are defined and redefined The collection conducts this inquiry by juxtaposing essays on literature history visual arts material culture music and dance in ways that encourage the reader to engage with concepts across traditional disciplinary boundaries The articles in this book were originally published in the Journal of Transatlantic Studies

Bounds of Blackness Christopher Tounsel, 2024-06-15 Bounds of Blackness explores the history of Black America s intellectual and cultural engagement with the modern state of Sudan Ancient Sudan occupies a central place in the Black American imaginary as an exemplar of Black glory pride and civilization while contemporary Sudan often categorized as part of Arab Africa rather than Black Africa is often sidelined and overlooked In this pathbreaking book Christopher Tounsel unpacks the vacillating approaches of Black Americans to the Sudanese state and its multiethnic populace through periods defined by colonialism postcolonial civil wars genocide in Darfur and South Sudanese independence By exploring the work of African American intellectuals diplomats organizations and media outlets Tounsel shows how this transnational relationship reflects the robust yet capricious terms of racial consciousness in the African Diaspora African American Religions, 1500-2000

Johnson, 2015-08-06 A rich account of the long history of Black religion from the dawn of Western colonialism to the rise of the national security paradigm Sites of Slavery Salamishah Tillet, 2012-07-26 In Sites of Slavery Salamishah Tillet examines how contemporary African American artists and intellectuals including Annette Gordon Reed Barbara Chase Riboud Bill T Jones Carrie Mae Weems and Kara Walker turn to the subject of slavery in order to understand and challenge the ongoing exclusion of African Americans from the founding narratives of the United States

Historical Dictionary of United States-Africa Relations Robert Anthony Waters Jr., 2009-03-20 The image of Africa

among Americans at the beginning of the 21st century is tragic America's image among Africans is of a place that is splendid but arrogant and unfeeling Both have large elements of truth Poverty coups corruption pandemic disease and tribal racial and religious violence are all too common in Africa So too is Americans lack of concern about the people of a continent that suffers from these tragedies as well as their government's support for African governments that treat their people as prey instead of citizens The Historical Dictionary of United States Africa Relations encompasses the relationship between the two from the trans Atlantic slave trade to the George W Bush administration with particular emphasis on the Cold War It focuses on political and economic aspects of the relationship and includes cultural relations This is done through a chronology an introductory essay a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on key persons places events institutions and organizations
