Middletown Postcard History:

Times Square and 42nd Street in Vintage Postcards Randall Gabrielan, 2000 Times Square celebrated as the crossroads of the world begins at 42nd Street America's main stem Times Square has a rich history as the center of American popular culture embracing music theater and hospitality Forty second Street once the northern boundary of commercial New York was transformed into a legendary focal point of the publishing entertainment and transportation industries following the expansion of Grand Central Terminal

Levittown Margaret Lundrigan Ferrer, Tova Navarra, 1999-03 Levittown the prototype for suburban housing development in America emerged from the hands of legendary builders Abraham William and Alfred Levitt in 1947 in response to the housing dilemmas faced by veterans returning home after World War II Skeptics predicted that the community would deteriorate but Levittown soon became the model for housing developments throughout the nation Its strategically planned neighborhoods were reproduced overseas as well including cities in Germany France Spain and Israel Through more than 200 vintage photographs combined with a thoroughly researched text Levittown Volume II illuminates the evolution of this close knit community and invites readers to meet the families that contributed to its growth This second volume of Levittown images takes us a step beyond the pre Levitt history presented in Levittown The First 50 Years and further explores the town's progress to date

Postcards Lydia Pyne, 2021-10-13 A global exploration of postcards as artifacts at the intersection of history science technology art and culture Postcards are usually associated with banal holiday pleasantries but they are made possible by sophisticated industries and institutions from printers to postal services When they were invented postcards established what is now taken for granted in modern times the ability to send and receive messages around the world easily and inexpensively Fundamentally they are about creating personal connections links between people places and beliefs Lydia Pyne examines postcards on a global scale to understand them as artifacts that are at the intersection of history science technology art and culture In doing so she shows how postcards were the first global social network and also here in the twenty first century how postcards are not yet extinct

The Old Leather Man Dan W. DeLuca, 2013-09-01 In 1883 wearing a sixty pound suit sewn from leather boot tops a wanderer known only as the Leather Man began to walk a 365 mile loop between the Connecticut and Hudson Rivers that he would complete every 34 days for almost six years His circuit took him through at least 41 towns in southwestern Connecticut and southeastern New York sleeping in caves accepting food from townspeople and speaking only in grunts and gestures along the way What remains of the mysterious Leather Man today are the news clippings and photographs taken by the first hand witnesses of this captivating individual The Old Leather Man gathers the best of the early newspaper accounts of the Leather Man and includes maps of his route historic photographs of his shelters the houses he was known to stop at along his way and of the Leather Man himself This history tracks the footsteps of the Leather Man and unravels the myths surrounding the man who made Connecticut's caves his home A Driftless Connecticut Series Book funded by the Beatrice Fox Auerbach Foundation

Fund at the Hartford Foundation for Public Giving Domestic United States Military Facilities of the First World War 1917-1919 Robert Swanson,2000-02 This book attempts to list every place in the United States and Territories where soldiers sailors or marines might have been stationed during the First World War The reason for such a list is to provide source locations and checklists for postal history letters and cards from these military men The book lists all fixed land based United States military camps and facilities that operated during the War period There has long been a need for such a listing as it was not known where military mail could have originated within the US Accessions List - Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs Delaware. Division of Historical and Cultural Affairs,1962 New York City's Financial District in Vintage Postcards Randall Gabrielan,2000 The early decades of the twentieth century were among the most vibrant for both New York City and the world of postcards The 1898 consolidation of the city s five boroughs sparked a building boom that inspired a heightened awareness of the city s changing landscape In response to this new appreciation the postcard industry began a colorful pictorial record that was especially rich for New York Fat Shame Amy Erdman Farrell,2011-05-02 A look at how fatness became a cultural stigma in the United States Economics and the Family Stephen J. Bahr,Brigham Young University. Family and Demographic Research Institute,1980 Jersey City in Vintage Postcards Randall Gabrielan,1999-09-01 Jersey City in Vintage Postcards features selected postcard images some actual photographs that depict Jersey Cityas early twentieth century rise as one of the Northeastas great urban areas Many of the views seen here remained intact into the 1940s and 1950s More than two hundred thirty postcards and photographs organized geographically also suggest an evolving Jersey City while well researched captions describe the changing cityscape
