Migration A World History New Oxford World History:

Migration Michael H. Fisher, 2014 Fisher explores the process of migration chronologically and at levels varying from the migration of an individual community to larger patterns of the collective movements of major ethnic groups to the more abstract study of emigration migration and immigration The New Oxford World History Michael Herbert Fisher, 2014

Migration History in World History, 2010-03-25 Migration is the talk of the town On the whole however the current situation is seen as resulting from unique political upheavals Such a historical interpretations ignore the fact that migration is a fundamental phenomenon in human societies from the beginning and plays a crucial role in the cultural economic political and social developments and innovations So far however most studies are limited to the last four centuries largely ignoring the spectacular advances made in other disciplines which study the deep past like anthropology archaeology population genetics and linguistics and that reach back as far as 80 000 years ago This is the first book that offers an overview of the state of the art in these disciplines and shows how historians and social scientists working in the recent past can profit from their insights Migration in World History Patrick Manning, Tiffany Trimmer, 2020-05-04 In this third edition of Migration in World History Patrick Manning presents an expanded and newly coherent view of migratory processes conveying new research and interpretation The engaging narrative shows the continuity of migratory processes from the time of foragers who settled the earth to farmers opening new fields and merchants linking purchasers everywhere In the last thousand years accumulation of wealth brought capitalism industry and the travels of free and slave migrants In a contest of civilizational hierarchy and movements of emancipation nations arose to replace empires although conflicts within nations expelled refugees The future of migration is now a serious concern The new edition includes An introduction to the migration theories that explain the shifting patterns of migration in early and recent times Quantification of changes in migration including international migration domestic urbanization and growing refugee movements A new chapter tracing twenty first century migration and population from 2000 to 2050 showing how migrants escaping climate change will steadily outnumber refugees from other social conflicts While migration is often stressful it contributes to diversity exchanges new perspectives and innovations This comprehensive and up to date view of migration will stimulate readers with interests in many fields The Oxford World History of Empire Peter Fibiger Bang, Christopher Alan Bayly, Walter Scheidel, 2021 This is the first world history of empire reaching from the third millennium BCE to the present By combining synthetic surveys thematic comparative essays and numerous chapters on specific empires its two volumes provide unparalleled coverage of imperialism throughout history and across continents from Asia to Europe and from Africa to the Americas Only a few decades ago empire was believed to be a thing of the past now it is clear that it has been and remains one of the most enduring forms of political organization and power We cannot understand the dynamics and resilience of empire without moving decisively beyond the study of individual cases or particular periods such as the relatively short age of European colonialism The history of empire as these volumes amply demonstrate needs to be drawn on the much broader canvas of global history Volume I The Imperial Experience is dedicated to synthesis and comparison Following a comprehensive theoretical survey and bold world history synthesis fifteen chapters analyze and explore the multifaceted experience of empire across cultures and through the ages The broad range of perspectives includes scale world systems and geopolitics military organization political economy and elite formation monumental display law mapping and registering religion literature the politics of difference resistance energy transfers ecology memories and the decline of empires This broad set of topics is united by the central theme of power examined under four headings systems of power cultures of power disparities of power and memory and decline Taken together these chapters offer a comprehensive and unique view of the imperial experience in world history
