POLITICAL AND ECONOMIC RELATIONS BETWEEN IRAN AND CENTRAL ASIAN STATES , 1991-2010 Dr.

Rashmi Tiwari, 2024-09-25 During the post cold war era a power vacuum has been created in Central Asia The great powers like United States Russia China and European Union want to exert their own influence in the region to meet their geo strategic interests The other countries like Iran Turkey Pakistan India and Saudi Arabia also want to strengthen their historical cultural linguistic economic and political relations with the Central Asian States The oil and natural gas rich Central Asian States are a great source of attraction for the developed world in general and United States and Russia in particular Iran sharing a long border with Turkmenistan sea route with Kazakhstan and linguistic ties with Tajikistan has a comparative advantage in bringing the Central Asian States in its own fold The Central Asian Republics emerged as independent sovereign countries in December 1991 as a result of Soviet Union disintegration Central Asia has inappropriately been called Inmost Asia or Innermost Asia but in fact Central Asia is not Inmost Asia or Innermost Asia it is just Central Asia It lies at the heart of Eurasian continent completely land locked and geographically surrounded by Iran and Afghanistan in the south Russia in the north China in the east and the Eastern Europe in the west The Caucasus stands on the other side of the Caspian Sea which is situated in the western part of Central Asia comprising the three countries of Azerbaijan Armenia and Georgia Central Asian Republics CARs have had geographical historical social and cultural linkages with Iran In fact these republics were part of imperial Iranian state Due to its geostrategic location of Central Asia and its adjoining region in pre industrial times Iran was a land bridge between inner South and East Asia on the one hand and Europe on the other hand In the wake of the industrial revolution Iran was drawn into the European imperialists power game in Central Asia 1 Iran is the eighteenth largest country in the world with an area of 1 648 000 km square Its borders are with Azerbaijan to the North West the Caspian Sea to the North Turkmenistan to the North East Pakistan to the East Turkey and Iraq to the West and finally the waters of the Persian Gulf and the Gulf of Oman to the South 1 See A H H Abidi Iran and Central Asian States World Focus March April 1993 p 45      The Greater Middle East in Global Politics Mehdi Amineh, 2007-10-30 This anthology unites in one volume two studies of the Greater Middle East in global politics each conceptual and empirical First it is a historical comparative study of politics and societies in selected Greater Middle Eastern countries from Napoleon s invasion of Ottoman Egypt in 1798 up until today It addresses development and change in these societies as results of the complex interactions between external developments the rise and expansion of European industrialized powers and internal developments the disintegration of Islamic Empires their transformation into nation states and their efforts to industrialize and modernize Second it is an empirical case study of states and societies of the Greater Middle East in global politics addressing themes such as nationalism revolution political Islam democracy globalization regionalism revolution war energy and conflict and cooperation The book is comprised of three parts and nineteen chapters

Estes,2016-04-08 This handbook addresses the historical background of the Islamic world and reviews its basic past intellectual achievements It studies social progress of these regions and sub regions in comparison with other parts of the world It uses large data sets and well established statistically weighted Indexes in order to assess the nature and pace of the multiple facets of social change in member states of the Organization of Islamic Cooperation OIC The handbook extensively discusses the main challenges confronting the Islamic nations in the social economic political and ideological fields Though it is recognizable that social change in the Islamic World is generally positive it remains highly variable in pace and there is room to speed it up to the benefit of millions of deprived Muslim people Hence the book studies the different propositions and programs of action such as the United Nations Millennium Development Campaign and the OIC s Ten Year Programme of Action to present an integrated and comprehensive agenda of action to help improve the situation in the Islamic World Introduction to Global Politics Richard W. Mansbach,Kirsten L. Taylor,2013-06-17 Fully revised and updated the second edition of Introduction to Global Politics places an increased emphasis on the themes of continuity and change It continues to explain global politics using an historical approach firmly linking history with the events of today By integrating theory and political practice at individual state and global levels students are introduced to key developments in global politics helping them make sense of major trends that are shaping our world This is a highly illustrated textbook with informative and interactive boxed material throughout Chapter opening timelines contextualise the material that follows and definitions of key terms are provided in a glossary at the end of the book Every chapter ends with student activities cultural materials and annotated suggestions for further reading that now include websites Key updates for this edition New chapter on The causes of war and the changing nature of violence in global politics New chapter on Technology and global politics Enhanced coverage of theory including post positivist theories Uses levels of analysis framework throughout the text New material on the financial crisis BRIC and Iran Introduction to Global Politics continues to be essential reading for students of political science global politics and international relations World Christian Trends Ad30-ad2200 (hb) ,2001

Heartlands of Eurasia Anita Sengupta,2009-07-16 Heartlands of Eurasia explores how received metageographical knowledge informs the understanding of global processes and is subsequently transformed into geopolitical reasoning with foreign policy implications It provides a detailed examination of writings from both within the region and outside that look into the significance of Halford Mackinder s heritage in the context of a vastly changed world situation In particular it attempts to examine how policy makers and strategic thinkers have used these geopolitical concepts as justification for their policy in the region Finally it attempts an analysis of the extent to which this policy thinking was translated into practice While the study looks into how the vision of the pivotal significance of a vast expanse of land finds its echoes in contemporary narratives it also underlines the very creative ways in which Mackinder s ideas have been reinterpreted in keeping with the changing global dynamics Making use of the way in which the region has been traditionally defined and the way in which the people defined themselves the study brings into focus a debate on the usefulness of region or area based studies that are located in geographical imaginations Anita Sengupta uses this connection to examine the following issues geopolitical imaginations and their relevance in identifying areas in the present context the intersection between how areas are defined from an outsider perspective and how people define themselves the extent to which these definitions have influenced policy and the possibility or feasibility of the development of alternative geostrategic discourses Mackinder himself did not specify the geographical area identified first as the pivot and later the heartland but his ideas were focused on the closed heartland of Euro Asia an area that was unassailable by sea power This study therefore centers its debates around the Eurasian space in general though the focus is on the Central Asian region and Uzbekistan in particular The book is ideal for specialists working on the Eurasian region graduate students interested in geopolitics as well as Eurasian and Central Asian studies and undergraduates studying political science and international relations
