Migration And Diversity In Asian Contexts:

Migration and Diversity in Asian Contexts Ah Eng Lai, Francis Leo Collins, Brenda S. A. Yeoh, 2013 This volume makes an important and unique contribution to scholarly understandings of migration and diversity through its focus on Asian contexts Current scholarship and literature on processes of migration and the consequences of diversity is heavily concentrated on Western contexts and their concerns with multiculturalism integration rights and responsibilities social cohesion social inclusion and cosmopolitanism In contrast there has been relatively little attention given to migration and growing diversity in Asian contexts which are constituted by highly distinct and varied histories cultures geographies and political economies This book fills this significant gap in the literature on migration studies with a concentrated focus on communities cities and countries in the Asian region that are experiencing increased levels of population mobility and subsequent diversity Not only does it offer analyses of the policies and processes of migration it also addresses the outcomes and implications of migration and diversity these include a focus on multiculturalism and citizenship in the Asian region the emerging complex forms of governance in response to increased diversity discussions of different settlement experiences and the practices of everyday life and encounters in increasingly diverse locales Global Asian City Francis L.

Collins, 2018-05-03 Global Asian City provides a unique theoretical framework for studying the growth of cities and migration focused on the notion of desire as a major driver of international migration to Asian cities Draws on more than 120 interviews of emigrants to Seoul including migrant workers from Indonesia Philippines Thailand and Vietnam English teachers from Australia Canada New Zealand South Africa UK and USA and international students at two elite Korean universities Features a comparative account of different migrant populations and the ways in which national migration systems and urban processes create differences between these groups Focuses on the causes of international migrant to Seoul South Korea and reveals how migration has transformed the city and nation especially in the last two decades Education and Migration in an Asian Context Francis Peddie, Jing Liu, 2021-04-20 This edited book explores the complex and multifaceted connections between education and migration in an Asian context from multiple perspectives It features studies from China Japan India the Philippines Thailand and Timor Leste and covers diverse migration and education experiences These experiences encompass internal and international migration and forced displacement as well as questions surrounding education such as school choice education provision and training as human capital education and social inclusion and student performance in a post conflict context By covering a wide range of questions and situations the original scholarship in this book reveals how human development concerns and higher rates of movement within and outside of Asian countries operate on multiple levels in a globalized world

Migration and Marriage in Asian Contexts Zheng Mu, Wei-Jun Jean Yeung, 2021-11-29 This book analyses how Asian migrants adapt and assimilate into their host societies and how this assimilation differs across their sociodemographic backgrounds ethnic profiles and political contexts The diversities in Asian migrants assimilation trajectories challenge the assumption that given time migrants will eventually integrate holistically into their host societies This book captures the diverse patterns and trajectories of assimilation by going beyond marriage migration to look at how family formation processes are shaped by migration driven by reasons other than marriage Using quantitative qualitative and mixed method analyses not only does this book uncover the nuances of the link between marriage and migration but it also widens methodological repertoires in research on marriage and migration It also captures various social outcomes that may have been influenced by migration including migrants economic well being cultural assimilation subjective well being and gender inequality vis vis marriages This book further embeds the studies in the Asian contexts by drawing on individual countries unique policies relevant to cross cultural marriages the persistent impacts of extended families the patriarchal traditions and systems of religion and caste The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of the Journal of Ethnic and Migration Studies Migrant Cross-Cultural Encounters in Asia and the Pacific Jacqueline

Leckie,Angela McCarthy,Angela Wanhalla,2016-11-03 In contrast to much scholarship on cross cultural encounters which focuses primarily on contact between indigenous peoples and settlers or sojourners this book is concerned with migrant aspects of this phenomenon whether migrant migrant or migrant host encounters bringing together studies from a variety of perspectives on cross cultural encounters their past and their resonances across the contemporary Asia Pacific region Organised thematically into sections focusing on imperial encounters of the nineteenth and twentieth centuries identities in the twentieth and twenty first centuries and contemporary citizenship and the ways in which this is complicated by mobility and cross cultural encounters the volume presents studies of New Zealand Singapore Australia Vanuatu Mauritius and China to highlight key themes of mobility intimacies ethnicity and race heritage and diaspora through rich evidence such as photographs census data the arts and interviews Demonstrating the importance of multidisciplinary ways of looking at migrant cross cultural encounters through blending historical and social science methodologies from a range of disciplinary backgrounds Migrant Cross Cultural Encounters in Asia and the Pacific will appeal to anthropologists sociologists cultural geographers and historians with interests in migration mobility and cross cultural encounters Asian Migrants and Religious Experience Bernardo Brown,Brenda Yeoh,2025-10-01 Typically scholars approach migrants religions as a safeguard of cultural identity something that connects migrants to their communities of origin This ethnographic anthology challenges that position by reframing the religious experiences of migrants as a transformative force capable of refashioning narratives of displacement into journeys of spiritual awakening and missionary calling These essays explore migrants motivations in support of an argument that to travel inspires a search for new meaning in religion Migration and Citizenship pathways in/beyond Asia Elaine Lynn-Ee Ho,Rhacel Salazar Parreñas,Brenda S.A. Yeoh,2025-09-17 This edited volume explores the complex and varied pathways to citizenship that migrants navigate in both sending and receiving countries By examining the diverse strategies which migrants employ to handle uncertainties and global disparities this work highlights how citizenship pathways evolve across national and transnational spaces as well as over time Citizenship pathways are defined as the routes and processes through which migrants achieve citizenship recognition and redistribution influencing their pursuit of personal and family goals This approach reveals how different migrant groups experience membership and access economic opportunities with some gaining political and social rights while others face denial Additionally migrants responses to policy changes and their adaptive strategies reshape citizenship practices This volume underscores the dynamic interplay between migration and citizenship illustrating how power relations among states migrants and non migrants are continuously renegotiated affecting societal structures and individual life choices This book was originally published as a special issue of Ethnic and Racial Studies The 3rd ASEAN Reader Ooi Kee Beng, 2015-08-24 Over the past two decades ISEAS has compiled abridged articles that analyse key aspects of Southeast Asia's development and the ASEAN process The ASEAN Reader was published in 1992 just as the Cold War ended while The Second ASEAN Reader came in 2003 in the wake of the 1997 Asian crisis and the September 11 attacks in 2001 The past decade has not been spared its share of intense changes with the rise of China and India bringing new challenges to the region's power equation and the impact of the 2008 global financial crisis Despite this the momentum towards an integrated ASEAN community has been maintained The articles in The Third ASEAN Reader study the trends and events of recent years and discuss the immediate future of Southeast Asia Immigrant Incorporation in East Asian Democracies Erin Aeran Chung, 2020-10-08 Comparing three Northeast Asian countries this book examines how past struggles for democracy shape current movements for immigrant rights Marriage Migration, Family and Citizenship in Asia Tuen Yi Chiu, Brenda S.A. Yeoh, 2023-06-06 Amidst the increasing global trend of cross border marriage migration this book offers timely theoretical and empirical insights into contemporary debates about migration and citizenship Extant scholarship on marriage migration and citizenship have concentrated on East West inter cultural marriages and tended to approach citizenship as an individual centred concept linked to the nation state thus fading the family into the background Focusing on cross border marriages within Asia a region where collectivist and familistic values are still prevalent this book points to the importance of going beyond the state individual nexus to conceptualise and foreground the family as a strategic site where citizenship is mediated negotiated and experienced Through six critical and in depth case studies on cross border marriages between East Southeast and South Asia this book reveals how nation states mobilize patriarchal notions of the family for its citizenship project how formal frameworks of citizenship structure the trajectory and circumstances of cross border families how the repercussions of marriage migrants citizenship are experienced and negotiated across generations and how the tensions between the individual the family and the state are produced along gender class race ethnic religious cultural geographical and generational boundaries Collectively this book calls for a rethinking of citizenship from an individual centred proposition to a family level concept Its wealth of case studies and examples make it an essential resource for students academics and researchers of Sociology Geography Anthropology Politics International Development Studies and Asian Studies The chapters in this book were originally published as a special issue of Citizenship Studies
