Migration Diaspora And Identity Cross National Experiences International Perspectives On Migration:

Migration, Diaspora and Identity Georgina Tsolidis, 2013-10-07 Framed in relation to diaspora this collection engages with the subject of how cultural difference is lived and how complex and shifting identities shape and respond to spatial politics of belonging Diaspora is understood in a variety of ways which makes this an eclectic collection of papers Authors use various theoretical frameworks to explore diverse groups of people with a variety of experiences in a wide range of settings They are making sense of the experiences of women and men from a range of ethnic backgrounds negotiating identities through family work and education The micro dynamics of the everyday offer an evocative bottom up means of understanding the tensions implicit in living multiple belongings The common thread for the collection comes from the glimpses these authors provide into the remaking of our globalized world The aim is to shed light on racism dislocation and alienation on the one hand and on the other hand to consider how the complex power relations within the everyday mediate a sense of resistance and hope The papers are arranged around four themes 1 Multiple Belongings 2 Representing a Way of Being 3 Sexualised Identifications and 4 Marriage and Family

Migration, Diaspora and Information Technology in Global Societies Leopoldina Fortunati, Raul Pertierra, Jane Vincent, 2013-03-01 Migrants and diaspora communities are shaped by their use of information and communication technologies This book explores the multifaceted role played by new media in the re location of these groups of people assisting them in their efforts to defeat nostalgia construct new communities and keep connected with their communities of origin Furthermore the book analyses the different ways in which migrants contribute along with natives in co constructing contemporary societies a process in which the cultures of both groups are considered Drawing on contributions from a range of disciplines including sociology anthropology psychology and linguistics it offers a more profound understanding of one of the most significant phenomena of contemporary international societies the migration of nearly a billion people worldwide and the relationship between technology and society

Marriage Migration in Asia Sari K. Ishii, 2016-02-26 Men are disadvantaged in the marriage markets of many Asian countries and in some cases their response is to look abroad for a partner Receiving countries for marriage migrants include Japan Korea Taiwan Hong Kong and Singapore while the Philippines Thailand Vietnam Indonesia and parts of mainland China supply wives to these territories In the absence of uniform international regulations concerning the rights and obligations of partners such unions are treated differently in different jurisdiction In extreme cases migrants or their children become stateless and when marriages break down migrants sometimes face major legal problems In such circumstances marriage migrants are often portrayed as powerless uneducated victims Rejecting this perspective the authors in this volume explore the agency of women who migrate abroad to acquire opportunities unavailable to them in their homelands They show that the trajectories of marriage migrants are often not a simple movement from home to destination but can involve return repeated or extended migrations and that these transitions that can alter geographies of power in economics nationality or ethnicity Based on features shared by many marriage migrants the book identifies them as an emerging minority at the frontier of the nation state a group whose status may well carry over to future generations

The Asian Family in Literature and Film Bernard Wilson, Sharifah Aishah Osman, 2024-06-24 This book investigates the ways in which the family unit is now perceived in South and Southeast Asia and the Asian diaspora its numerous conceptions and the changes it has undergone over the last century and into the new one The prevailing threads that run through a significant part of the literature and cinema emerging from these societies are the challenges that confront those negotiating changing forms of family changes which are expressed historically politically and socio culturally and often in relation to gender ethnic or economic imbalances Though regional and localized in many ways they are also very much universal in the questions they ask the lessons they teach and the connections they make Theoretically and in terms of focus the collection offers a broad range embracing representation and analysis from scholars across the globe and across disciplines It assembles written and visual texts from and about India Indonesia Malaysia The Philippines Singapore and the Asian diaspora How have more fluid concepts of family in the late twentieth and early twenty first centuries affected the understanding of family in Asia How have families in Asia resisted or embraced change How have they responded to trauma What do other readings gendered feminist queer and diasporic bring to modern debates surrounding family To what extent are notions of family community society and nation represented as interchangeable concepts in Asian societies This book questions the power dynamics ethical considerations and moral imperatives that underpin families and societies within and beyond Asian borders

YOUNG MIGRANTS: Vulnerabilities, Boundaries, Protection and Integration Ana Vila-Freyer, Mehmet Gökyay Özerim, 2020-08-03

Nepali Migrant Women Shobha Hamal Gurung, 2015-11-17 In this pathbreaking and timely work Hamal Gurung gives voice to the growing number of Nepali women who migrate to the United States to work in the informal economy Highlighting the experiences of thirty five women mostly college educated and middle class who take on domestic service and unskilled labor jobs Hamal Gurung challenges conventional portraits of Third World women as victims forced into low wage employment Instead she sheds light on Nepali women s strategic decisions to accept downwardly mobile positions in order to earn more income thereby achieving greater agency in their home countries as well as in their diasporic communities in the United States These women are not only investing in themselves and their families they are building transnational communities through formal participation in NGOs and informal networks of migrant workers In great detail Hamal Gurung documents Nepali migrant women s lives making visible the profound and far reaching effects of their civic economic and political engagement
